Riots In Calcutta Cost 250 Lives

Fear Serious Uprisings In Jew Deportations

JERUSALEM, (CP)—Haganah's clendestine radio station, Voice of Israel, Saturday started broadcasting an appeal at 15-minute intervals in the Haifa area, urging Jewish residents to "leave your homes and join the demonstration in the centre of town."

The broadcast said nearly 1,500 Jewish refugees from two immigrant ships "are being deported right now."

Meanwhile a ring of steel was maintained around the harbor, as it has been since the first deportation of refugees Tuesday.

Authorities expressed fear of serious uprisings in the already tense city as word spread that two British vessels, which returned to Haifa from Cyprus Friday night, were preparing to deport the immigrants.

Tension was reported running high although no curfew has been clamped on Haifa as yet.

After Friday's sentencing to death of 18 members of the so-called Stern gang for a bomb raid on Haifa railway shops, rumors spread that the underground would strike back and the reports of renewed deportations added to the apprehension of authorities.

Latest reports indicated the Vaad Leumi (National Council for Palestine Jews) was standing pat on its decision for a non-co-operation strike Sunday to protest the deportations.

In the first official figures revealed to date, British authorities said 1,286 European Jews, deported from Palestine because they lacked immigration permits, had been lodged in Camp Caraolos, near Famagusta, Cyprus. The 1,109 adults and 177 children were reported living in tents.

HAIFA, Reuters)—Nearly 200 illegal Jewish immigrants who swam ashore from their ship off the Palestine coast were still at large Saturday. Two youths were arrested by a military patrol in a Jewish suburb of Haifa but police still are searching for the remainder.

Uranium Said Sold To 'Easterly Power'

STOCKHOLM, (NANA)— Uranium, chief element in the manufacture of atomic bombs, is being sold on Berlin's black market.

According to the Aftonbiadet, the heavy mineral which now has appeared on the illegal commodity exchange originates from the stocks formerly held by the German nuclear laboratories, which were hidden from the occupation forces by the Nazi underground.

It is further reported that the sale of the precious radioactive metal is cloaked by greater secrecy than any other existing traffic and that the prices demanded and obtained are the highest on record.

It is rumored that the buyers of the illegal uranium are acquiring it for the account of "an easterly power."

U. S. Jewish Plan Still Not Known

By Peter Inglis

WASHINGTON.—Just three minutes after the release time set by the White House for his statement of policy on Palestine, President Truman set sail for an 18-day vacation on the Atlantic.

Behind he left a brand-new wave of confusion, replacing a two-week-long wave of speculation, most of which had nothing to do with exactly what stand the United States was taking toward Britain's problem in the Holy Land.

As the presidential yacht Williamsburg headed for the open sea, Washington was wondering:

Whether Mr. Truman's statement that he was "contemplating" asking congress for "special legislation" authorizing the entry of a quota of displaced persons, including Jews, from Europe to the United States, meant he would summon a special session after the congressional elections in November. The betting was against a special session.

Whether such legislation, assuming congress approved it, would be in time to show good toward relieving outbreak of violence which Britain fears.

Why did Truman had reversed an emphatic earlier stand on the subject of admitting displaced Jews to the United States.

Despite Mr. Truman's denial of the existence of any United States plan for settling the Palestine problem, it was learned he has put a measure of administration support behind the Jewish agency's suggestions for the creation of separate Jewish and Arab states with a large measure of autonomy for the Jews.

Diplomatic informants still maintained that Mr. Truman had let the British government know that if Britain would back this plan, the moral and financial support of the United States would be behind it.

A British embassy spokesman said the British government does not favor the plan, but will be bound to re-examine it in the light of Mr. Truman's endorsation.

Their Majesties Visit Scotland

Looking happier and more relaxed than they have for some time, their Majesties the King and Queen are shown congratulating the officer of the guard on the smartness of the guards' attire. The King showed up at Ballater in traditional and colorful kilt, tam-o'shanter, and large-checked sports jacket. The army officer stands stiffly at attention while the Queen chats with him.

Troops Move Into City To Quell Disorders

CALCUTTA, (CP)—British troops moved into this "first city" of India Saturday to quell disturbances which have cost an estimated 250 lives in two days of turmoil coincident with the Moslem league's call for a "direct action" day against British independence proposals.

A curfew was imposed as a Bengal government press note confirmed that the army had been asked to help check mounting disorder among the city's more than 2,000,000 inhabitants.

Armored cars streaked through the streets and British planes flew over the seething city. Police opened fire to disperse angry crowds.

Some estimates placed losses from looting Friday at more than $3,000,000.

Orders were issued prohibiting the assembly of five or more persons and barring the carrying of dangerous weapons as reports came in from northeastern sections of the city telling of new disturbances.

Friday's bloody clashes continued into the night, despite a curfew.

Bus and tram service remained suspended Saturday.

Troops, wearing steel helmets, moved about the streets in jeeps covered with wire mesh to protect themselves against missiles hurled by the mobs.

Police resorted to firing in some instances to break up Hindu-Moslem fighting.

B. C. to Ignore Wage 'Ceilings'

VICTORIA, (CP)—The 10-cents an-hour "interim" ceiling on wage boosts for thousands of B.C. workers was lifted Friday by the regional war labor board which Monday will start to deal with scores of applications on their individual merits, without regard to the "ceilings."

This announcement was made by Labor Minister Pearson, chairman of the British Columbia regional war labor board, which met in Vancouver Thursday with representatives of A.F.L. and C.I.O. unions. Mr. Pearson said the course of action was decided on unanimously by the board in a resolution following the representations.

Bank Holdup Fails In Blaze of Guns

OTTAWA, (CP)—Provincial police Saturday held Thomas Ritchie, 32, of no fixed address, on a nominal vagrancy charge pending further investigation into the attempted robbery Friday of the Royal bank at Emburn, Ont., 30 miles southeast of here.

Ritchie was arrested on a farm three miles southwest of Russell, Ont., after a 15-man posse of police and residents closed in on him.

He surrendered to provincial police, who found a loaded revolver on his person and another gun in nearby underbrush.

In the attemped robbery a gunman shot it out with the manager of the bank and with a policeman.

In a wild series of events, the desperate armed fugitive was wounded in the left leg; a taxi-driver, 38-year-old Harold Malette, was taken to an Ottawa hospital in serious condition with a bullet wound in the back; his taxi was wrecked in a ditch near Russell.

Early Friday morning, Malette was engaged to drive a man to Emburn. Shortly after noon he was forced at gun-point to enter the bank and was used by the gunman as a shield as he shouted: "This is a holdup—we mean business."

J. A. Cloutier, the bank manager, grappled with the gunman, and one of the man, reached into an open drawer for a heavy automatic and fired. Then he ducked behind the counter as the gunman raised himself on a ledge to return the fire. Mr. Cloutier and the gunman's revolver misfired.

As the two retreated, Mr. Cloutier fired twice more. The first shot fell, wounded in the back, while the gunman raced for the taxi parked outside with the engine running. The bank manager said he was sure he wounded him in the left leg.

The taxi sped away. It was going so fast as it reached the outskirts of Russell it failed to negotiate a sharp turn and the machine turned over in a ditch.

Trainmen Reject 10-Cent Increase

OTTAWA, (CP)—The Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen Saturday announced it had rejected a wage increase offer of 10 cents an hour from the Canadian National and Ontario Northland railways.

The brotherhood's application for a 25 cent increase, affecting 18,000 Canadian railway workers had been referred back to the national war labor board by the O.N.R. had declined to enter into negotiations.

It is understood other railway unions, representing altogether about 170,000 workers, are still in negotiations.

The trainmen's organization represents a wide range of classification from passenger and freight service including conductors, baggagemen, brakemen, yard masters, yard foremen and helpers and dining car employes.

14½ Ounce Baby In B.C. Hospital

GANGES, B.C., (CP)—One of the smallest babies ever born in British Columbia is in an Ganges hospital here. She is the daughter of Mrs. Henry Smathers of North Pender island, and at birth weighed 14½ ounces. She was born three months prematurely.

Blames International Officers In Winnipeg Printers' Strike

By Torchy Anderson

OTTAWA.—Failure of negotiations to end the strike of International Typographical Union printers on the Tribune and Free Press in Winnipeg was laid squarely on the executive head of the international union at Indianapolis by industrial dispute inquiry commissioner W. D. Card, of Portage La Prairie, in a report to the minister of labor in May of this year.

The report was tabled in the commons Saturday by Labor Minister Mitchell in response to a request of A. L. Smith (Prog. Conss., Calgary West).

The commissioner found that the dispute was a strike, not a lockout.

He found that it was illegal because it contravened P.C.—1003 and the war labor regulations.

The strike started Nov. 9, 1945.

Strikes on other Southam newspapers were ordered by union heads after the break-down of all negotiations in Winnipeg.

He blamed international union heads for insistence on refusal to agree to arbitration of union "laws" which had been revised just prior to the start of negotiations in Winnipeg.

Referring to the events of Mr. Justice Major of Winnipeg to constitute the dispute, commissioner Card reported he was convinced that but for the insistence on the part of the union on non-arbitration of its revised bylaws, Mr. Justice Major might have succeeded.

Refused Compromise

He said the international union had refused to accept compromise suggestions sent them by Mr. Justice Major and himself.

The commissioner considered that the members of the local (Winnipeg) union must be absolved from blame since they were under oath to abide by the constitution and bylaws of the I.T.U. They faced penalties including union benefits if expelled, he said.

Crawls from Car Wrecked by Plunge

TRAIL, B.C., (CP)—After his automobile swerved from the highway and plunged 150-feet down an embankment, Earl Rusten, of Trail, crawled from the wrecked car back to the roadway. He was found unconscious by passers-by and brought to hospital here where his condition was reported fair.

Parley Will Hear Austria and Iran

PARIS, (AP) The Paris peace conference Saturday voted 15 to six to invite Austria to state her views on the pending treaty with Italy. Canada put in a strong bid in support of the invitation of the former Axis satellite, Iran also was invited.

Brooke Claxton, Canadian health minister and a member of Canada's delegation, supported the arguments of Andrei Vishinsky, a Russian delegate, that the Russian delegation had "no information" and therefore could not agree to inviting Austria to the 21-nation conference.

"Mr. Vishinsky says he has no information," Mr. Claxton said. "It is precisely in order to get information that we should invite Austria. Canada is in favor of this proposition and of all the other proposals which will promote an enduring peace."

The approved proposal would invite Austria to appear to explain its point of view on the treaty with Italy on the same terms as Albania, Mexico, Cuba and Egypt."

Six votes against the invitation were cast by Russia and that country's eastern European adherents.

Immediately after approval of Austria's invitation, the Soviet delegate placed a motion before the conference for a similar invitation to Iran.

"The Iranian government has three times communicated its desire to take part in this conference," Mr. Vishinsky said. "The Soviet delegation thinks the request is entirely justified and well founded."

The Soviet delegation proposed that Iran be invited on the same footing as other United Nations members, which hitherto have not taken part in the conference. This would give the proposed delegation an opportunity to express its views but not to vote.

The proposal was unanimously adopted.

Hunt For Suspect In Twin Murder

CORNWALL, Ont., (CP)—City, township and provincial police Saturday pressed a search for William Earl Lama, 40-year-old farmer wanted for questioning in connection with the knife slaying of his wife, Mrs. Mary Jane Lama, 39, and his nine-year-old daughter, Mary Ann Lama, whose bodies were found Friday in their tin-covered shack near Harrison's Corners, nine miles from Cornwall.

Led by township police chief R. H. Hawkshaw, the police posse headed into the bush area surrounding the squalid farm home where the brutal twin murder took place Friday morning.

Trains Re-routed as Slide Blocks C. P. R. in Mountains

BANFF, (CP)—More than 100 men were working feverishly Saturday with bulldozers and ditchers to clear the C.P.R. tracks of the district's worst recent rock slide 45 miles west of here at Cathedral mountain. No persons were reported injured.

All east and westbound traffic was halted over the C.P.R. and trans-Canada highway and railway officials were re-routing traffic from Vancouver east and Winnipeg west.

The slide blocked off miles of the railway track along which two sections of No. 4 passenger train and one section of No. 8 had passed more than an hour earlier. It covered three steps of the figure eight tracks, and the trans-Canada highway which bends around the mountain.

About 12 miles west of Cathedral mountain Le Field, which saw one of the worst rock slides in history. A slide completely buried the town of Le Field just after the turn of the century and took the lives of many of its inhabitants.

All available men and equipment were rushed to Cathedral mountain from Vancouver, North Bend, Revelstoke and Nelson, on the west side and Calgary and Medicine Hat on the east.

Officials were unable to estimate when the rock would be cleared away and the tracks re-constructed although it was believed it would take at least several days.

Railway officials said all east and west traffic through the area would be re-routed through the Crowsnest pass.

No. 1 westbound passenger train due to leave Calgary at 11:15 a.m. Friday was detoured by Kettle valley and was half an hour late. No. 2 passenger train due in Calgary at 12:55 p.m. Saturday has been detoured via Golden, B.C., and the Crowsnest pass.

CALGARY, (CP) — Westbound C.P.R. trains out of Calgary will be re-routed through the Crowsnest pass Saturday.

Officials here estimated the trains would arrive in Vancouver at least eight hours behind schedule. Trains from the coast were expected to be about 12 hours late.

A local left Calgary Saturday for Lake Louise on the scheduled time, 10:00 a.m. No. 7 and will return Saturday on No. 8's time.

Reject French Plan Co-ordinate Zones

BERLIN, (AP)—British and United States representatives of the Allied control authority's co-ordinating committee Friday rejected a French proposal to establish central administrative agencies staffed with Allied personnel to co-ordinate major phases of German economy in all four occupation zones.

City-to-Calgary Service Rapped

By H. R. Hardy

OTTAWA.—The Canadian National Railways' service between Calgary and Edmonton is a poor advertisement for the public ownership of railways, Norman Jaques, (C.C.-Wetaskiwin) told the commons Friday night during the discussion by committee of the department of transport estimates.

Mr. Jaques said the line, which had operated since 1911 ran through one of the finest farming districts in the west, but for a number of years there had been only one train every other day. This was poor service. It was curious to note, he added, the Canadian Pacific ran three trains each day, including Sundays, between Calgary and Edmonton.

"The Canadian National Railways, running between Calgary and Edmonton," explained Mr. Jaques, "works a great hardship upon the people in that area. If they want to go to Edmonton and wish to travel on a Tuesday they would not arrive until late in the evening, and would have either to come home early the next morning, preventing their doing any business, or must wait until the Friday before returning. This means a stay of two days in Edmonton, or Calgary, as the case may be."

Hon. Lionel Chevrier, minister of transport, said it was the first complaint he had personally received concerning the service between the two points and he would be glad to bring it to the attention of the C.N.R. officials.

Mr. Chevrier also said a second survey had been made by the C.N.R., of the possibilities of completing a line across a 40-mile gap mostly in northern Saskatchewan but that its findings were not yet available. The gap is between Heinsburg, Alta., and Frenchman's Butte, Bask.

Mr. Chevrier said the original survey had indicated the line should not be completed but at the urging of a delegation from that area another had been undertaken.

Several members urged the human aspect override financial considerations and the gap be closed.

Minor Race Riot Over Boxing Bout

SYDNEY, N.S., (CP)—A minor race riot, touched off by a decision in a boxing tournament staged before a mixed crowd of white persons and Negroes, lasted for almost an hour in nearby Whitney pier Friday night before being brought under control by police. No one was reported seriously injured.

The fighting broke out when Negro patrons showed dissatisfaction over a decision by a referee awarding a bout to a white contestant over his Negro opponent.

Clubs made from smashed chairs and tables were reported used during the melee.

The Weather

Forecast: Clear this afternoon and tonight, becoming cloudy and warmer Sunday. Wind northwest 15 m.p.h.

Estimated low tonight, 42.
Estimated high tomorrow, 68.
At Edmonton Sunday, sun rises 5:17; sets 7:58. Monday sun rises 5:19; sets 7:56.
Yesterday's maximum, 50.
Overnight low, 43.
Rainfall, .18 of an inch.

Severe Frost Fails Arrive; Heavy Loss Said Averted

Cloudy skies and a strong breeze overnight saved Alberta farmers a loss that might have totalled millions of dollars. While low-lying areas in the Peace River country and the extreme western portion of the Edmonton district were hit by a light frost, causing some damage, the severe frost forecast, which would have lowered wheat grades from No. one to No. four and cut yields of coarse grains, failed to materialize.

Farmers and city gardeners wore smiles Saturday as the night passed without a sharp freeze and the weather bureau indicated that the danger period was past.

Summer flowers still bloomed radiantly Saturday and tomatoes, beans and other vegetables susceptible to frost were free of blight simply because the frost did not clear. If they had, a severe frost would have been the probable result. The frost danger was further lessened by the stiff breeze that prevailed.

Crops Were Drained

But the frost forecast threw a king-sized scare into the province. Motorists Friday night drained their cars and gardeners covered their plants. Farmers, with prospects of a bumper crop, could do little but keep their fingers crossed. Carl Stimpfle, president of the Alberta Farmers' Union, had declared Friday night: "This is a very nasty situation and a very serious one, not only for the farmers but for all Alberta."

The forecast for Edmonton was clear Saturday afternoon and evening, becoming cloudy but warmer Sunday. The estimated high for Sunday is 68 degrees. The overnight low in Edmonton was 42 at 12:30 a.m. Saturday, 11 degrees warmer than had been forecast. The estimated high Saturday was 60.

Most Escape Frost

The majority of northern points reported Saturday that they had also escaped any frost. Reports were not complete on what low-lying areas had suffered frost. Agricultural authorities said that those would undoubtedly be damage in those that did.

In Edmonton .18 inches of rain fell in the 24 hours preceding 8:00 a.m. Saturday. Vermilion had 2.96 inches and Coronation 1.44 inches.

Temperatures in the north early Saturday generally ranged upwards of 40 degrees.

Vote to Increase Judges' Salaries

OTTAWA, (CP)—The commons rejected by a vote of 73-24 a C.C.F. motion which would have given a six-month bust to a bill increasing the salaries of judges appointed by dominion and provincial governments.

After defeat of the motion, third reading was given the bill which will increase by one-third the judges' salaries, which now range from $5,000 to $15,000.

C.C.F. members, unsupported on the vote by any other members argued that judges' salaries now were sufficient to allow them to live comfortably and that increases in old age pensions and betterment of the living conditions of Canadians generally should have priority over any change in the remuneration of the judiciary.

Committee Report On Strikes Ready

By Torchy Anderson

OTTAWA.— Saturday afternoon or Monday morning, the industrial relations committee of the commons after more than three weeks work, is expected to report back.

The committee has sat "in camera" during the work on its report which is reported to have met with almost unanimous endorsation. Party splits are said to have occured on important points.

Corridor gossip Saturday morning indicated that the report may contain recommendations to:

Give the department of labor the right to institute a supervised vote in any industry where a strike has been called.

Order steel controller F. H. Kilburn to enforce the 40-hour week in plants where workers are ready to work."

Censure of the Steel union for not following the legal procedure laid down for settling disputes.

The general effect will be to throw the steel strike and other disputes back in the lap of the government.

Police Trailing Escaped Convict

BELLEVILLE, Ont., (CP)— Provincial police and prison guards were forced to abandon a search for Henry L. Lafortune Friday night after they surrounded the escaped convict in swamp land south of here.

Darkness prevented further search for Lafortune who escaped Aug. 2 from the Portsmouth penitentiary farm at Collins bay, near Kingston. Police said they would resume the search at daybreak and expressed the belief Lafortune could not escape.

Lafortune, who pleaded guilty to seven charges of burglary and armed robbery, was serving a seven-year sentence when he made his escape.

BUY ASSEMBLY PLANT

TORONTO, (AP)—Nash-Kelvinator corporation announced Saturday the purchase of the Ford Motor company plant in Toronto for the production of Nash automobiles.

Airborne Troops For Alaska Urged

ANCHORAGE, Alaska, (AP)— Completing a four-day inspection tour of Alaska, house military committee members expressed the opinion Friday the United States' vast northern territory must be adequately and quickly armed to repel any possible attack.

"There must never be a Pearl Harbor attack from the north," Acting Chairman John Sheridan (Dem., Pa.) told reporters who accompanied the committee on its Alaskan tour.

Alaska is a direct overland route to the United States and we must not allow anyone to take it."

Sheridan and other committee members approved the goal of army leaders to base in Alaska a completely equipped and supported airborne division as the backbone of the defence program.

That they said, was the objective sought by Maj. Gen. H. A. Craig, commanding general of the Alaskan department.

An airborne division and supporting forces would require approximately 21,000 men, or almost twice as many as the army has now in the entire territory.

Other military needs of the territory, committee members said, are more adequate housing for army and essential civilian personnel; an expanded program of training in Arctic warfare; improvement and maintenance of the Alaska highway as a truck route from the United States to the Alaskan interior; development of a highway system connecting the airports with Anchorage and Fairbanks, and development of Whittier as a port of entry.

SEATTLE, (AP)— When the U.S. army transport St. Olaf headed for Alaska Friday it carried the 78-man vanguard of the army task force which is to stage the first post-war military manoeuvres to test equipment in the Aleutians and on the Alaska mainland.

VARSITY BUILDING BURNS

ANTIGONISH, N.S., (CP)—Damage estimated at $30,000 was caused at Mockler Hall, residential building of St. Francis Xavier university, in a fire Friday. Donald Macadam, of the teaching staff, had to undergo hospital treatment for burns.

Killed Man in Edmonton Hotel, Tries Gain Freedom From Asylum

Attempts of a 78-year-old man to get himself released from a Washington hospital, claiming he is the victim of "a plot by Canadian police" who want him kept out of the way to recall an old murder trial in Edmonton in which he was involved.

The man is Joseph R. DeMarcos, an East Indian, who lived in Edmonton off and on since 1916. On Christmas Eve, 1934, in a city hotel, he cut a man's throat during an argument over a woman and he subsequently was tried for murder.

He was convicted of manslaughter and sentenced to life imprisonment. Prince Albert penitentiary, judged insane later and sent to Ponoka mental hospital. In 1939 it was established he was a United States citizen and he was deported, being taken under heavy guard to St. Elizabeth's hospital in Washington where he now is trying to gain his freedom.

There he is telling a district court judge that he should be released. He claims he never was legally judged insane in Canada. Government psychiatrists in Washington say his belief in a police plot is a delusion and "proof of his insanity" and they say he makes him dangerous to society.

He claims that "after cleaning the Communists out of Alberta" he became a constable in Vancouver" where he exposed 67 police and government officials for graft."

DeMarcos says these men were discharged, demoted or transferred and threatened to get revenge. They had him convicted of manslaughter in 1934, he claims, in a case "where he killed a man accidentally and in self-defence." The man, he says, was sent by police to assault him.

J. R. DEMARCOS

Two years later, according to his story, he was moved to an insane asylum "after the warden in the jail where he was imprisoned discovered he was about to expose a $35,000 shortage in prison accounts."

When he was sentenced to life imprisonment, Mr Justice Boyle in supreme court here said the jury had been most generous in returning a manslaughter verdict. "It should have been murder," said the jurist.

Find R.C.A.F. Destroyed Goods; Action Condemned By Committee

By H. R. Hardy

OTTAWA.—Destruction of valuable material at Penhold, Calgary and other depots of the R.C.A.F. actually took place and no such procedure or action should have been followed, the public accounts committee on war expenditures and economics reported to parliament Friday in its fifth and final report. Dealing with this specific matter, the report, signed by Gordon Isnor, chairman said:

"It is to be regretted, and is indeed unfortunate, that no collective statistical data was kept of the equipment which was reduced to scrap as it was not apparent at the time that there was an advantage to be gained from the additional administrative work involved. It was pointed out by the R.C.A.F. that all serviceable bits and pieces and parts were extracted.

"The destruction, nevertheless took place, and even though the policy, in this respect has been changed, your committee takes the definite stand that no such procedure or action should have been followed. According to evidence R.C.A.F. witness no further destruction has taken place since August, 1945."

Canadian Press said the committee made the following recommendations regarding the treatment of educational institutions:

That the present policy of indefinite loans to educational institutions be broadened to include equipment not readily saleable.

That official educational representatives be permitted to visit and inspect such material and equipment as may be considered of educational value.

That there be granted to educational institutions a discount equal to that received by any dealer for similar lines.

Whale Visit Off; Winnipeg Relieved

WINNIPEG, (CP)— Those citizens who had smelled a dead whale and hurriedly made preparations to leave town when Ald. William Scraba announced he was bringing one here, won't have to leave after all.

Ald. Scraba announced somewhat sadly Saturday that the 15-foot 1,400-pound white whale he harpooned in Hudson Bay off Churchill, Man, had been chopped up for dog meat there. The reason: He had left a $40 deposit to cover express and handling charges. It would have cost $85.

REV. ALEX STEWART

Arrange Funeral Rev. Alex. Stewart

Pioneer resident of western Canada and chaplain of the Northern Alberta Pioneers and Old-Timers' association for 19 years, Rev. Alex Stewart, 82, 11141 82 ave., died at his home Friday.

Mr. Stewart first settled in the west in 1882 when he took up a homestead at Moose Mountain Sask. After the Riel Rebellion he returned to the east and completed his theology course at Knox college, Toronto university.

He returned to the west shortly after the turn of the century and for the past 35 years has made his home in northern Alberta where he was a prominent figure in church and welfare work.

Had Many Charges

Mr. Stewart had charges in many Alberta communities until he retired about 15 years ago. He did not remain inactive after his retirement and continued to spread much happiness among the sick and needy.

His greatest service after his retirement was for the sick. He was a familiar figure around hospitals throughout the central and northern portion of the province and performed many acts of kindness, especially in the Edmonton district.

He was particularly interested in tubercular patients and for many he brightened their hours of illness.

With the co-operation of city stores, Mr. Stewart performed a typical act of kindness last Easter when he distributed among hospital patients bouquets of daffodils.

Besides Mrs. Stewart he is survived by two sons, Dr. Duncan Stewart, Edmonton, and Elmore M. Stewart, Vermilion; three daughters, Mrs. B. Everith and the Misses Jean and Ruth Stewart of Edmonton.

Funeral services will be held Monday at 2:00 p.m. at the Andrews-McLaughlin funeral chapel. Rev. Elgin G. Turnbull will officiate, assisted by Rev. J. N. Brunton and Rev. T. R. Davies, chairman of the Edmonton Ministerial association.

Burial will be in the Edmonton cemetery.

EDMONTON LIVESTOCK

Stockyard receipts for the week: cattle 3,175; calves 847; hogs 1,483; sheep 1,628.

Trading was fairly active on the cattle market throughout the past week, with prices 25 cents per cwt. lower on all classes. Receipts were heavy, consisting largely of plain and in-between kinds, with very few top quality butchers on offer.

Under a good demand, however, salesmen were able to make a reasonable clearance. The practical top on steers was 12.00 per cwt. with a few choice heavies realizing 12.25 per cwt. Good to choice butcher heifers were mostly from 11.00 to 11.50 per cwt. while the general run on offer sold from 10.75 down to a low of 7.00 per cwt. The cow market declined with choice cows trading from 8.50 to 9.00 per cwt. and good cows 8.00 to 8.50 per cwt. Bulls were also lower selling from 8.00 to 9.50 per cwt.

Stockmen and farmers intending to sell cattle this fall, would greatly assist the market by innoculating their stock against shipping fever about two weeks previous to shipping. Elimination of losses of this kind indirectly has a strong bearing on the reputations of the central market, and final prices received.

Stockers and feeders tending lower. Good steers 9.00 to 9.50. Common to fair 8.00 to 8.75. Heifers 7.50 to 8.50. Stock cows 6.50 to 8.00.

Veal calves lower. Good to choice handyweights 12.00 to 13.00. Heavy and common kinds 11.50 down.

Hogs firmer. Grade A for shipment 20.50. Grade A at plants 19.75. Sows liveweight on yards 13.50. Sows dressed 15.50 to 16.25. Feeders 15.25 to 16.00, according to weight and quality.

Lambs steady. Spring lambs 13.00 to 13.50. Off cars 14.00. Mediums 9.50 to 10.50. Yearlings 7.00 to 9.00. Light ewes 5.00 to 7.00. Medium ewes 3.50 to 5.00. Feeders in limited demand from 6.00 to 8.00 per cwt.

Farmers are advised to market their lambs before Sept. 1 as the present price ceiling expires August 31, 1946.

LIVESTOCK REVIEW

OTTAWA, (CP)—The dominion agriculture department said Saturday in its weekly livestock report cattle good enough to warrant branding held steady, but seasonal deterioration caused declines of 25 cents or more on cows, heifers and low-grade steers.

Trade turned somewhat softer in western Canada due to fairly heavy supplies of ordinary quality cattle, but declines were not sharp and good clearances were made at all markets.

Some hand-picked steers cleared at 12.50—13 at Winnipeg, but most went at 9.50—11.50. Best steers at Calgary brought 11.75—12.50, while Edmonton was steady on tops and lower on plain grades and sold most good steers from 12 down. Best prices paid at other markets on steers were at Prince Albert 12, Moose Jaw 12.50, Saskatoon 12.75 and Vancouver 12.75.

Aside from a slightly easier feeling at Montreal and one or two western markets, calf prices held at the previous week's levels. Winnipeg was up to 14.50, Calgary 11.50—12.25, Edmonton 11.50—12.50, Prince Albert up to 13, Moose Jaw 12.50, Saskatoon 13—1350, and Regina 12.50.

While little change was shown in eastern markets or at Winnipeg, Saskatchewan and Alberta hog markets advanced roughly 25 cents. Winnipeg paid 19.10 for grade "B1" hogs, Calgary 19.60—19.85, Edmonton 20.10, Prince Albert 18.85, Moose Jaw and Saskatoon 18.85, Regina 18.60, Vancouver 19.75—20.45 and Moncton $20.60.

Lambs with offerings seasonally heavier, showed easiness, but declines were not extensive. Toronto paid 15.50—16 for good ewes and wethers, Montreal 14.50—15 and an odd 15.50, Winnipeg up to 14.50, Calgary up to 13, Edmonton 13.50, Moose Jaw 13—14, Saskatoon 13, Regina up to 14, and Vancouver 14 to 15.

CAR LOADINGS

OTTAWA, (CP)—Car loadings for the week ended Aug. 10 were 68,789 cars compared with 70,581 for the previous week and 68,628 for the corresponding week last year, the dominion bureau of statistics reported.

EDMONTON GRAIN

Street prices on Edmonton deliveries of grain were quoted by the National Grain Company Saturday: Rye—2 C.W. 169¾, 3 C.W. 164¾, 4 C.W. 155¾, ergoty 132¼. Oats—all grades 38½ plus 10-cent bonus. Barley—all grades 47¾ plus 15-cent bonus.

Wheat on wheat board scale of $1.20 for top northern.

EDMONTON POULTRY PRICES

Dealers are quoting on live poultry at Edmonton plants: fowl—No. 1, 16 cents; No. 2, 10 cents; broilers—No. 1, 19; No. 2, 14; live chicken—No. 1, 19; No. 2, 14.

When rail graded, a charge of eight cents on chicken and six cents on fowl per head is made for processing, then settlement will be made on the following basis: Dressed chicken—A milkfed, 28 cents; B milkfed, 26; grade B 24; grade C 20; dressed fowl—grade A, 20; grade B 18, and grade C 14.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, (AP)—Grain futures firmed toward the close of a quiet session Saturday when professional traders entered the pits to reduce outstanding short lines. Operations were mainly of an evening-up nature for the week-end.

Corn finished ⅝-1⅛ higher, and oats were up ⅝-1⅛. There was no trade in barley.

WINNIPEG GRAIN

WINNIPEG, (CP)—Rye futures prices moved in a relatively narrow range on the Winnipeg grain exchange Saturday with removal for the time being of the threat of frost bringing a slightly easier tone to the market.

At the close Oct. was ¼ down at 1.89¼; Dec. ⅛ down at 1.79-179¼ bid and May ⅛ up at 1.76⅞ asked.

Cash prices: oats, all grades 51½; rye, 2 C.W., 194¼.

Plan Strike Votes In Packing Plants

TORONTO, (CP)—As a result of a breakdown in negotiations between the United Packinghouse Workers of America (C.I.O.) and representatives of Canada Packers and Burns and Company, strike votes will be taken by 9,000 meat-packing workers in plants of those companies, Fred Dowling, Canadian U.P.W.A. director, said Friday night.

"Spokesmen for the packers have officially informed us that they are unwilling to grant any wage increases at present," said Dowling.

A third member of the "Big Three" of the Meat-packing industry, Swift Canadian company, still is negotiating with the union on wages and other matters.

Mr. Dowling said the wage demands of the union are for a $33.60 minimum for a guaranteed minimum week of 37 ½ hours, which in some areas would amount to an increase of 26 cents per hour.

Involved in the dispute are 5,500 Canada Packers employes in Vancouver, Edmonton, Winnipeg, Toronto, Peterborough and Montreal, and 3,500 Burns and Company employes in Vancouver, Calgary, Edmonton, Regina, Prince Albert and Winnipeg.

Admits Setting Fire Which Took 7 Lives

PARKESBURG, W. Va., (AP)—Police chief Clarence Hylbert said Friday Shelley Hart, 35-year-old former bellhop, had signed a statement admitting he started a fire in the Grand hotel here where seven persons lost their lives Dec. 9.

In the statement Hart was quoted as saying he set fire to the four-storey hotel because he was "angry" with the owner, Thomas Solomon.

LORNE INGLE

Ingle Admitted To Alberta Bar

Brilliant law graduate of the University of Alberta who rose from private to major's rank in the war, Lorne Ingle was admitted to the Alberta bar Friday by Mr. Justice Parlee.

The ceremony took place at the court house where A. L. Marks, with whom Mr. Ingle articled, presented the new barrister.

Mr. Ingle graduated in arts in 1939 and in law the next year. He was president of the debating society and the Political Science club and was active in general club activities.

He articled for a short time with Parlee, Smith and Parlee, and then joined the 1st Battalion, Edmonton Fusiliers as a private. When he was discharged in September 1945, he was a major, deputy assistant adjutant-general at Ottawa.

On Sept. 1 he assumes his duties as new national research director for the C.C.F.

Mr. Justice Parlee said "I have watched the career of Mr. Ingle closely and of all the many students who passed through the office none showed more care and keen interest in preparation of briefs and other duties.

"In these times when the country is in a state of flux young men with character are sorely needed in public life and I feel that Mr. Ingle possesses that quality in large measure."

Wetaskiwin Marks Arrival of Gas

WETASKIWIN.—Arrival of gas in Wetaskiwin was marked by a ceremony here Friday night when Mayor C. D. Enman lighted a torch erected near the city hall. In spite of the adverse weather, a large crowd witnessed the event.

Julian Garrett, vice-president and general manager of Northwestern utilities, assisted the mayor at the ceremony.

Mayor Enman recalled the beginning of electrical, water and sewer in similar ceremonies many years ago and expressed the keen appreciation of all citizens on the arrival of natural gas in Wetaskiwin. Mr. Garrett spoke briefly of the company's efforts to bring gas to the community and pledged the company and staff to do their utmost to provide continuous and efficient service.

Northwestern Utilities was host to civic officials at an informal dinner.

Gas company officials announced they would be ready to provide service to those connected with the mains by Monday and that all users would be hooked up as soon as possible.

NAVAL CUSTOMS AND TRADITIONS NO. 5

THE KING: British Naval Officers when afloat treasure the right to drink the King's health while seated. Some say that the privilege of Naval Officers to remain seated during the "Toast to the King" dates back to the reign of Charles II, who on returning to England in 1660 on board the Royal Charles, bumped his head when replying to a toast, and ever afterwards held Naval Officers excused from rising on these occasions.

Will Sail Ship England to B.C.

LONDON, (CP)—A peppery adventure-loving Englishman, Cmdr. A. M. Kinnersley Saul, R.N.R., is ready to sail for British Columbia in a former Royal Navy Minesweeper—the Mardena, as soon as he can "cut through all the red tape."

Energetic and white-haired at 63, Cmdr. Saul said he "started buying" the Mardena from the navy in February and "finished the job" in April. With his wife and two children and 11 other voyagers, he plans a leisurely, roundabout cruise. A skilled navigator, he left the admiralty service last September.

The Mardena, was built as a fishing vessel, was used by the navy to explode 27 mines around Britain's coasts last year. Commodious and comfortably-furnished, she now lies at anchor here.

Cmdr. Saul, who was at one time in the British Columbia lighthouse service at Victoria, complained that his preparations for the voyage have been beset by "furlongs of red tape, stupid petty officialdom and crass governmental ignorance."

"I can hardly wait to get to Canada. . . let's hope there is a little fresh air left that the bureaucrats haven't polluted," he said.

Premier Will Visit Berlin, Nuernberg

PARIS, (CP)—Travelling in an R.C.A.F. Dakota transport, Prime Minister King will visit Berlin and Nuernberg for about one day each next week, the Canadian Press learned officially. Mr. King will visit Dieppe this week-end.

In Berlin he is expected to have interviews with senior officers of the British control commission. At Nuernberg he will attend a session of the international war crimes tribunal.

War and Starvation Route Cash Into Farmers' Pocket

OTTAWA, (CP) — With the aid of two inseparable and tragic companions—war and starvation—the men with the hoe and the net have become the men of finance, at least so far as million-dollar totals are concerned.

These totals, running into billions of dollars annually, are shown in the food contracts which Canada has signed during the war and since with Britain and other nations under the impetus of a war-born food scarcity which has made the dominion one of the food-baskets of the world.

To the Canadian farmer and Canadian fisherman, they have meant good prices, security and the far-seen stability of price and market that long has been the hope of basic producers.

There is a growing opinion among statesmen and a growing hope among producers—that the world never again will return to those times when the farmer was burdened with surpluses he could not sell. A step in this direction will be taken next month when the Copenhagen conference of the world food and agriculture organization will study a plan to protect farmers against unduly low prices and consumers against unduly high prices.

One of the mainstays of Canadian agriculture has been wheat and it has been given greater stability by the recent four-year British-Canadian agreement under which Britain will buy 600,000,000 bushels from the dominion over a four-year period.

Meats, too, have become the subject of long-term agreement and Canada has contracted to deliver to Britain minimum quantities of bacon and ham totalling 450,000,000 pounds this year, 350 000,000 pounds next year and 400,000,000 in 1948. The price ranges from $25 down to a floor of $22.50 per 100 pounds.

Canada has been sending overseas all available quantities of beef at prices ranging from $18.70 to $22.75. Beef agreements have been on a yearly basis and Agriculture Minister Gardiner recently announced a new beef contract with Britian was nearing completion. The British sales are over and above other shipments to UNRRA.

The fisherman has not been forgotten in these overseas deals. The United Kingdom last year took 1,405,000 cases of Canadian canned salmon, caught on both the eastern and western coasts, and will purchase an amount approaching that total this year. UNRRA has contracted for 30,000,000 pounds of various products and, although she now has asked to be relieved of the contract, will purchase the whole amount if it cannot be marketed elsewhere.

Men of the Indian armed forces won 6,000 awards for gallantry during the war, including 30 Victoria Crosses.

Fined $400 and Costs In Car Conspiracy

WINNIPEG, (CP)—The firm of Partridge and Halliday Limited and an official and employe of the firm have been fined a total of $400 and costs in provincial police court for conspiring to violate an order of the motor vehicle controller.

The firm was fined $150, secretary-treasurer Robert Glass $200 and Paul Fasuschou $50 after conviction on a charge that the latter, an ex-serviceman, had bought an automobile on his priority certificate but with money advanced by the firm. Prices board officials testified Glass frequently was seen driving the car and had bought all the gas and oil for it.

Pupils Shun Buses Until Roads Fixed

CANYON, BC., (CP)—Sixty residents of the Canyon, Lister, Huscroft and Arrow Creek area, 40 miles southeast of Nelson, met here and decided that students will not travel to school in buses unless something is done to improve road conditions.

The school term is scheduled to open Sept. 3. Another meeting has been called for Aug. 29 and if roads at that time still remain in "the present deplorable state," it was decided to picket the three school buses so they cannot be boarded by any students.

In the meantime, one spokesman said, efforts are being continued to induce the public works department to repair the roads.

Charges Misuse Of Army Papers

OTTAWA, (CP)—John Diefenbaker (Prog. Cons., Lake Centre, Sask.) charged in the commons Friday that the government had committed a breach of the privileges of parliament by failing to table all the correspondence on a certain incident after the house had directed that it be tabled.

His reference was to a return tabled in the house Thursday in which it was shown that Arthur Macnamara, deputy labor minister, had decided in April "to close the file" on a case of alleged misuse of army discharge papers at Camp Borden.

Mr. Diefenbaker said that from the correspondence itself it was obvious that at least four letters had been taken out of the file in "denuding" it. He said the R.C.M.P. had uncovered a definite "conspiracy" to use blank but signed discharge papers illegally, but that their findings had "been departed from".

Blank papers had been sold to some persons and in at least one case $1,300 had been paid, Mr. Diefenbaker charged.

Mr. Macnamara, in Thursday's return, said two main reasons for his decision not to start prosecutions were the facts that the war had ended and that there was no evidence that money had played any part.

Start Fund Drive For Beauty Spots

LONDON,(CP)—A "grave financial crisis" has hit the National Trust, custodian of many of Britain's stateliest homes and most famous beauty spots.

In 50 years it has acquired some 115,000 acres of land in England, Wales and northern Ireland, in 200 separate properties. Six years of wartime neglect must be overcome and maintenance costs are steadily increasing.

Now a drive for $400,000 in public subscriptions has been launched. Hugh Dalton, chancellor of the exchequer, has promised to match collections, pound for pound, from treasury funds.

"The National Trust for places of historic interest or natural beauty," to give its official title, is a non-profit making organization incorporated by act of parliament. It has never had a state grant and doesn't want one.

Trust officers say heavy wartime taxation and "some nervousness over plans of the Labor government" is responsible for doubling since 1939 their real estate holdings.

Another Airplane For Saskatchewan

REGINA, (CP) — Premier Douglas said Friday Pilot Keith Malcolm will leave Regina Saturday for Montreal to take delivery of a new 600-horsepower Norseman aircraft for use in Saskatchewan's flying ambulance service. Since the service was inaugurated early in February one plane already has made more than 100 flights.

LIFE can Begin AFTER 40, IF..

Around 40 our energy lessens. But, experience has taught us to do our work with less effort. The years ahead should yield the greatest accomplishments, the most enjoyment and happiness. They can, too, if we avoid the kidney and bladder disorders such as Backache, Headache, Rheumatic Pains, Lassitude, Loss of Sleep and Energy which so often attack these around 40. For over half a century Doctor's Kidney Pills have been helping men and women to keep kidneys and bladder in good order. If you are nearing 40, or past it, for the sake of your health and a happier future use Dodd's Kidney Pills today!

B.C. Fights Spread Sleeping Sickness

VICTORIA, (CP)—At the request of the department of agriculture, provincial police in the interior of British Columbia have moved to establish quarantine against spread of reported outbreaks of encephalomyilitis, dread equine disease which produces a condition of sleeping sickness in horses and sometimes humans.

The disease was reported to have made its appearance in the North Thompson, Kamloops, Merritt and Ashcroft-Clinton areas.

Vaccination of all horses in districts affected is the only way to stop the spread of the disease, Dr. W. A. Gunn, livestock commissioner, warned.

Increase Prices For Export Beef

OTTAWA, (CP)—The meat board announced Friday night increases in the price it will pay for better qualities of beef for export to Britain, effective on all beef produced from cattle slaughtered on and after next Monday and varying according to the different price zones throughout Canada.

The board said the adjustment was being made to restore the relationship of export prices to domestic ceiling prices for beef which existed prior to the increase in domestic ceilings authorized by the Prices board last month.

The new prices mean an increase of $1 per 100 pounds in Alberta and Saskatchewan, $1.50 in Winnipeg and Montreal and $2 in Ontario, all for choice and good steer and heifer beef. These increases will provide a floor for these qualities of beef of 25 cents below domestic ceilings.

Commercial quality steer and heifer beef has been increased by 50 cents per 100 pounds in Winnipeg and Montreal, $1 in Ontario, with no change in the price paid for this quality in Alberta and Saskatchewan. They will mean a floor for commercial quality at $1.25 per 100 pounds below domestic ceiling at all points throughout Canada.

The export price for good and choice cow beef was 75 cents per 100 pounds below domestic ceilings. The price for good and choice cow beef has been raised 50 cents per 100 pounds in all price zones which will provide a floor price of 25 cents below domestic ceilings similar to the floor price on good and choice steer and heifer beef.

Flash Floods Hit Illinois Centres

CHICAGO, (AP)—Torrential rains resulting in flash floods left portions of East St. Louis and Belleville, Ill., under water Friday as thundershowers deluged the Mississippi valley along the Illinois-Missouri border.

At East St. Louis an 8.5-inch rainfall in 24 hours inundated an area two miles square—making streets impassable. Coastguardsmen were evacuating residents. The Signal Hill residential section below St. Louis and Belleville also was under several feet of water.

Most industries in the two cities were closed.

The unusually heavy rains fell on most parts of southern Illinois, causing at least one death, several railroad washouts and a traffic tie-up as many roads were made impassable.

PEARL, Ill. (AP)—Thousands of tons of sand and water swept into this west central Illinois river town of 600 Friday after a flood-weakened levee burst, making 250 persons homeless. No lives were reported lost.

Japan now has 700 American women, and 1,300 more are expected eventually.

Sports and Delinquency

J. Edgar Hoover, famed head of the United States Federal Bureau of Investigation, is formulating a wholesome sports program for the youth of America because he believes that participation in athletics is one of the important factors in the war against the growing crime wave.

More than 600,000 persons, says Mr. Hoover, or one out of every 23 persons, have police records in the United States. More youths of 18 were arrested last year than offenders in any other age group.

For this desperate condition Mr. Hoover prescribes a widespread program of sports for the young people of this continent.

It is facts like these that lend significance to the work of Edmonton's Recreation Commission. "Idle time on a boy's hands" declares Mr. Hoover, "is one of the principal reasons for delinquency and crime." Idle time on anyone's hands leads to discontent, moroseness and dissatisfaction with life.

In this age there is a dangerous tendency to take one's amusement vicariously. People stand on the sidelines to watch other people play. They become spectators rather than participants in entertainment. And this, perhaps, is one of the most vicious contributing factors to the general boredom of the age. This is an era of watching instead of doing.

The plans of the Edmonton Recreation Commission carry out Mr. Hoover's prescription for a more wholesome society almost to the letter. For the commission aims to see that every person in Edmonton, of all ages and sexes and sizes, shall have an opportunity to play or do something useful in his or her leisure hours.

It has been observed in this space before that boredom is one of the greatest enemies of the human race. Boredom breeds mischief, envy, malice, rancor and discontent. Boredom springs from vacuous moments in the human time-table. It can only be avoided by filling those vacant moments with interesting and profitable things to do.

This is the aim of the Recreation Commission. It should have all the support of all intelligent Edmonton people.

How to Smother the Baby

Mr. Abbott is a man of many parts in the capital at the present moment, with Mr. King at Paris attending the peace conference and Mr. Ilsley at Geneva with the UNRRA meeting. It makes one wonder whether Mr. Abbott finds it at all embarassing in his regular capacity of Minister of National Defence to tell the House of Commons that it is the intention to build a strong peace time defence force and, in his temporary role of Minister of Finance, that income tax will be collected on the meagre pay and allowances of reserve officers.

True, the amount involved is not large — neither large enough for the reserve officer to fret over nor, we should have imagined, for the treasury to trouble to collect. But that is not the point.

It saves the state a mint of money when national defence is undertaken by public spirited male citizens in their leisure hours with the merest skeleton cadre of what has been tentatively called an interim force.

Every officer who ever devoted his time and talents to the non-permanent arms, whether naval or military — knows it is a costly avocation. What pay and allowances he receives do not begin to pay the cost of uniforms and equipment, and in any event they almost always go back into regimental funds to improve further the state of the Service, or that portion of it which the government has failed or neglected to provide for.

So it amounts to this: that not only will the reserve officer of today continue, as his father did, to make voluntary donations to this branch of the public service, but he will pay taxes on those donations just as if he had put them into his pocket instead of having, in fact, taken them out and given them back to the state.

The Worst Has Happened

Millions of loyal Canadian men and women could not believe it would ever happen. Until now the exemption of conscripts from the same overseas service, and its attendant dangers, as other Canadians has been pretty generally agreed to be the most shameful chapter in the history of Canada's otherwise splendid war effort. But it is eclipsed totally by the defence minister's announcement of a complete amnesty for 26,400 deserters and absentees with whom the law had not caught up as at that date — Thursday.

Mr. Abbott's description of these person's forfeiture of post-discharge benefits as "automatic penalties" is utter nonsense. They paid no penalty, unless it is the contempt of their fellow-citizens. The deserters and absentees had not "what it takes" in the first place. When their country's danger was so grave that those who would not volunteer had to be drafted they deserted — the most disgraceful offence a fighting man can commit. They were not interested in their country's distress. They were not interested in gratuities, or preference in the employment market, or special opportunities for vocational training or land settlement. Society's contempt did not concern them so long as their skins were whole. They are not concerned now by any of these things, or the loss of them. They simply step back into society with a shameless smirk at having been smart enough to beat the law.

Thousands of Canadians did not serve in the armed forces at all. They were not called. Some were physically unfit. Some helped to win the war in other ways. Does the minister mean that the ineligibility of these to the same benefits as an ex-fighting man is tantamount to an "automatic penalty" for their unfitness or for their service in other ways?

All the deserters and the absentees wanted was to be left alone, to escape their duty as citizens, and to go scot free when better men than they grew tired of hunting them down.

They have had their way.

Comfort

In this strange post-war age when the energies of men seem to be bent towards getting the most they can out of life without regard to the rights or feelings of others, it is wholesome to be reminded of that second beatitude of our Lord given in the most amazing sermon ever preached on earth:

"Blessed are they whose hearts are broken with contrition and penitence, for they shall be comforted."

This second beatitude is one of those profundities of speech that experience alone can prove.

We love the summer sunshine. And yet the garden is never so lovely as after rain. We love the glories of spring. Yet without the rigors of winter we should never know the full beauty of the early flowers.

Health is never so appreciated as when it returns to us after the long agony of fever and pain. And in the same way life teaches us to love the days when, our hearts having known humiliation, the tender benediction, which is its sequel, steals upon us.

Suffering seems to be inseparable from human life. And suffering is real. When God formed this ball of earth and set it in His firmament, He chose it for the star of pain.

Jesus himself suffered physical agonies — and called upon His Father to alleviate it. Suffering is everywhere. The finest characters in life are those who have suffered.

The second beautitude is not confined to sorrow for sin but certainly includes it. And there is infinite comfort to meet it.

There is comfort for those who mourn the dead, for all who know bereavement and loss and whose hearts are desolate and cold.

"Blessed are they whose hearts are broken with contrition and penitence, for they shall be comforted."

Looking Backward

From The Bulletin Files

1886: 60 Years Ago

Fort Assiniboine: Little Poplar, a Cree chief who figured conspicuously in the rebellion, has been shot and killed about a mile east of the post by a half-breed named Ward. The killing is thought to have been in self-defence as Little Poplar himself took a hand in the shooting with a revolver of the type used by the Mounted Police. Ward used a Winchester rifle, firing three shots, all of which took effect, one through the head and two through the breast. Little Poplar stuck to his pony until the third shot was fired, when he dropped to the ground dead.

The Thrill That Comes Once in a Lifetime -:- by Webster

Defeat via "Peace"

By DOROTHY THOMPSON

Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin

The outline of what is emerging behind the facade of the peace conference is not clear. Mr. Byrnes revealed the dilemma of American foreign policy when he said: "The people do not want armies of occupation continued indefinitely in countries which are trying to reconstruct their national life on democratic lines . . . the people want us to get on with the peace."

Mr. Byrnes believes he must bring home the bacon of peace or the administration to which he belongs will suffer loss of prestige with the people. The treaties to be concluded at the Paris conference will, of course, be no solution of the equation of peace, for they will leave out the most important variables: Germany and Austria.

Thompson

What is actually happening is that in pursuit of the will-o-the-wisp, "peace," Mr. Byrnes is being forced into "concessioneering." In fact, this peace conference, like every previous conference aimed at securing agreement, is a repetition of Munich or Berchtesgaden, which also, the ostensible object was "peace."

* * *

ON OUR SIDE, our aim is to prevent a war; on the other side—the Russian—the aim is to win a war, to win the recent war, now, against its own allies; to win, to put it precisely, all the fruits of a successful war against Britain and the United States, by bloodless political means, the object being nothing less than world hegemony. In this play the atomic bomb is the revelant, as the Russians know, which acounts for their own superficially amazing airiness in the matter. For they are detonating it diplomatically.

Mr. John Foster Dulles the other day proposed another concession of American security to a nonexistent peace, when he suggested that "the USA might run a slight risk in abandoning its quest for geographical security by restricting its program of widespread (oceanic) bases, in order to do away with the greater risks inherent in the tensions the search builds up."

In return for what quid pro quo?

SLAPS AT QUEBEC

Quebec Chronicle-Telegraph

Ill feeling against Ottawa's repeated slaps at Quebec has been mounting steadily. First the harbor was subjected to a slow and painful death.

Then Reconstruction Minister Howe decided to close the St Malo arsenal. Both meant jobs, badly-needed jobs, for Quebecers.

This final slap, in delaying free port legislation possibly on behalf of certain interests which remain obscure at the moment, may well sign the death warrant for the Liberal legislators as far as the Ancient Capital is concerned since public opinion appears to be solidly behind the city's project.

SPENDING IS WATCHED.

Hamilton Spectator

Government today has concentrated on it the eyes of the public who is gaining a very real understanding of real wages and real wealth.

It is long past any era of believing that when Government spends a thousand dollars it is doing anything more han spending a ten dollar donation from a hundred people, each one of whom could have spent that ten dollars in buying the products of industry.

Decrease, or re-adjustment of taxation, should have as its aim industrial expansion and higher real wage levels. The two go together.

Are the tensions real: the result of that American "quest?" Can the United States, where only congress can declare war, launch a surprise attack of aggression? Are island bases in the hands of the United States, by every inference, bases for aggression? Did we, for instance, launch a surprise attack on Japan from the Philippines? Or have we ever sought to conquer Central America from the Panama canal?

* * *

BUT THE REALITY is that wherever the Russian armies stand—and we agreed (for the sake of "unanimity") to stand them in Vienna, Prague, and Berlin, and over half of the Reich, halting or withdrawing our own speedier-moving forces for that purpose—the Russians are annexing the territories, by a mixture of direct and indirect confiscation and acquiring not merely "bases," but armies, industries and populations.

Under the slogan of reparations last week they confiscated and annexed to the Soviet the whole recently-nationalized heavy industries of their enormous German zone, as large as all the others combined. These industries included I. G. Farben chemicals; Zeiss optical works; Leuna synthetic oil—all industries vital to war—whose workers with those of other such annexed industries reportedly number 3,000,000, now to be directly controlled by their employers.

They are fighting to do the same in Austria. And, of course, the moment these industries become "Russian" the disarmament provisions concerning them lapse. The Russians need no atomic bomb for that coup. They need only our simple faith.

The Road Ahead

By HARPER PROWSE, MLA

Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin

The most interesting feature of the new Anglo-Canadian wheat contract is the fact that it anticipates a drop in the world wheat price. This is shown by the fact that whereas the fixed price per bushel during the first two years is to be $1.55, for the third and fourth years, although no price is fixed, minimums of $1.25 and $1 are set.

Wheat growers have quite naturally taken exception to this. As they are now having their wheat sold for them by the government at a price below the world price they claim they should at least be guaranteed a price above the world level later. And most of us in the west will agree that it seems reasonable that our farmers should object to this country playing the philanthropist and passing the bill on to the wheat grower.

However, there is nothing in the agreement which stipulates what price the Canadian government is to pay the farmer for his wheat. It merely deals with the price the Canadian government is going to charge the British government. And I am sure the farmers can count on support in their fight for a guaranteed five-year floor at "parity" prices from the Winnipeg grain exchange which has suddenly developed such an unusual interest in the farmer's welfare.

But that is another story. The important thing is this forecast of a drop in the price of wheat which forms the basis for our agricultural economy in Canada. If the price of wheat is going down everybody in Canada is interested, because everybody is going to be affected either directly or indirectly.

* * *

IF THE PRICE of wheat goes down, for rather obvious reasons, our whole price level is due for a slump. If the farmers have less money to spend there is going to be a drastic decrease in the demand for consumer goods and this is going to be reflected not only in lower prices, but very probably in fewer jobs.

Normally we might expect the present labor unrest to be settled before 1948. But if our price level is due for a jolt that year then there are bound to be arguments about wages, lay-offs, and other things which affect labor. This is almost sure to result in more labor disputes.

At present labor seems to be unable to get any results until they have pulled a strike. Although this seems to get results it has proved to be disastrously costly not only to labor and management, but to the entire country and the world. It would seem then, that it is in the interests of everybody that an effort be made to set up some machinery that will make it possible for labor and management to settle their disputes without resorting to coatly strikes and lock-outs.

Everybody is sick and tired of reading about what the union leader called the manager and what the manager called "Hump" Mitchell. Everybody is sick and tired of hearing that we are short of this, that and the other thing because of "strikes." There has been enough bungling, senseless and futile muddling, and pussy-footing. It is time the government called in labor and management and worked out some method of handling labor disputes which is more in keeping with a nation which wants to appear grown-up. What good enough for mother and father is certainly not good enough for us.

The Bulletin's Readers Say:

"CHEST" OPERATION

Editor, Bulletin — Edmonton's Community Chest is most appreciative of your editorial comment in support of its efforts to effect a further limitation of Tag Days in Edmonton by the acceptance of the spirit in which it is offered, your admonition to avoid becoming too closed an organization, a condition which we are most anxious to avoid.

We note, however, an error in your article, which we hope you will correct with the same prominence given the original statement. You mention twenty-one member agencies and suggest there must be others deserving of similar support. Actually there are twenty-eight agencies in the Edmonton Community Chest, all of which have been part of the organization for several years.

Because it receives public funds and dispenses them as a trust, the Community Chest accepts an obligation to its contributors for proper supervision of the spending of such moneys. It, therefore, requires its member agencies to maintain proper accounting records to submit monthly statements of expenditure and to operate within the limits of an approved budget. It further requires that its members shall make no public appeal for funds other than through the Community Chest. Provision is arranged through the Council of Social Agencies for supervision of these important details and careful watch is also maintained to prevent duplication of services.

It is the belief of the Chest that it now represents all of the charities in Edmonton whose aims entitle them to public support and who will accept the supervision of the Community Chest as a protection for the givers. If there are others eligible we take this opportunity of welcoming their applications for Chest membership.

WHAT STRIKES COST

Windsor Star

There is a point at which strikes, shortages, and rising prices will have dissipated the savings of millions of persons. Many already have spent the money they laid by during the war years. More are doing it now. To supplement meagre strike allowances or unemployment insurance, they must dip into their reserves. The necessities and little luxuries they had planned to buy must be written off, perhaps for years.

Today in Europe

By Randolph Churchill

Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin

LONDON—Secretary of State James F. Byrnes had a great triumph last week in Paris. His victory plainly had Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov rattled so that Molotov momentarily permitted Byrnes to penetrate the iron curtain of Russian censorship. Molotov's acceptance of Byrnes' challenge to print the latter's speech in Russian newspapers was a notable concession.

No one can derive much satisfaction from the first two weeks of the conference. It took nearly two weeks for grown-up men to choose their chairman and decide on a few rules of procedure.

CHURCHILL

What is the root of the matter? It is Russia's desire to recreate at the peace conference the power of veto she possesses in the United Nations. Russia knows that, in any straight vote, she and her two puppets, White Russia and the Ukraine, and her three satellites, Poland, Jugoslavia and Czechslovakia, will be in the minority. Hence, Molotov's insistence that all recommendations should require a two-thirds vote to be adopted.

* * *

AT THE END of almost a fortnight's discussion, the British proposal was adopted by the rules commission. A simple majority would have been enough but it was carried by 15 to 6, which provides the two-thirds majority on which Mr. Molotov insisted.

Probably the British proposal was the only compromise that could have gone through, but it is going to add greatly to the labors of the conference. It provides that the conference may make two sets of recommendations to be considered by the Council of Foreign Ministers—those carried by a two-thirds vote, and those carried by a simple majority.

Judging by the way the powers have voted merely on matters of procedure, we may be sure that when they come to discuss matters of substance, there will be some proposals acceptable to two-thirds and some acceptable only to a lesser majority. Thus, we may expect the conference to drag on.

At the end we may be no better off than at the start. And when the foreign ministers meet to consider the recommendations of the conference, there will be further weeks and months of haggling as to which proposals should be adopted.

The right of the small nations to speak and be heard is a valuable achievement, but it does not follow that the results will be advantageous to the conference. Forced out into the open, many small powers, who would have preferred to lie low and not commit themselves in the giant game of power politics have been compelled to choose sides.

* * *

IT IS RUSSIA, not the western powers, who forced the issue. And if Russia is isolated save for her satellite states, the responsibility lies at the door of Mr. Molotov.

We have seen the difficulties of reaching agreement in the council of foreign ministers, whether they meet in London, Moscow or Paris. Who can doubt that, when the Council of Foreign Ministers come once more to discuss the drafts of these amended treaties, their differences will be accentuated rather than lessened? And imagination boggles at what would be the confusion and division of purpose when they come at length—probably not until well into next year—to find some solution to the German problem.

Ask Conference Be Reconvened

PORT WILLIAM, (CP) — A motion that a telegram be dispatched immediately to the acting federal finance minister urging reconvening of the dominion provincial conference was adopted Friday by the Association of Ontario Mayors and Reeves after an address by Mayor Saunders of Toronto recommending such action be taken.

Mayor Saunders said the "greatest need for the future of this country is the immediate settlement of all differences between the municipalities, the provinces and the dominion." Settlement can be brought about by agreement which can only be reached "by all sitting down and discussing out the difficulties," he added.

He added that the relationship between the dominion, provincial and municipal governments is not as "equal partners" and that he hoped if the dominion-provincial conference is reconvened the municipalities will be invited to sit in either as direct representatives or along with those from the provinces.

Bing Gets $30,000 For Weekly Program

HOLLYWOOD, (AP)—Bing Crosby, after several months of vacationing from the radio, goes back on the air in October. The lure is $30,000 a week from the Philco corporation. It's the highest salary ever, says American Broadcasting company, topping Jack Benny by about $2,500 a week.

The one thing that sold Bing on the idea is that he can make his program when he pleases, and it will be transcribed for presentation at the regular hour.

Bing doesn't like to do his radio programs in public. He'd rather wear a slouchy hat, sports coat, slacks and sing with his pipe in his mouth, as he does on his phonograph recordings.

Missed Two Wars He's Angry at 81

REGINA, (CP)—Eighty-one year old C. C. Folkerts of Maple Creek, Sask., is the oldest delegate attending the sessions of the rehabilitation committees meeting here—and he has been angry ever since the First Great War when he was turned down for service at the "young" age of 49.

Mr. Folkerts served with "Teddy" Roosevelt in the Spanish-American war back in 1898 but he complains bitterly, "since then I've missed every war."

"The South African affair was over when I returned to Canada. In 1914 I was told by a young 'shavetail' that I was too old. And in 1939, a young pup who could have been my grandson repeated the same story."

Order Dismissal Morality Captain

MONTREAL, (CP)—Montreal's municipal executive committee, acting on the recommendation of Police Director Fernand Dufresne, Friday dismissed Capt. Arthur Tache, suspended head of the police morality squad, for "disciplinary infractions."

Director Dufresne's report to the committee said the circumstances surrounding the disciplinary infraction of Capt. Tache show that there existed certain relations between himself and other individuals to frustrate the ends of justice and hinder the work of the police department inefficient."

The former head of the morality squad had been suspended by Director Dufresne and the police disciplinary board, after a hearing at which Capt. Tache failed to appear, subsequently recommended his dismissal.

His suspension came after a list specifying a number of policemen and time of raids on Montreal gambling establishments in Montreal was found when he had left on his vacation.

Wheat Carry-over Lowest Since '3

OTTAWA, (CP)—The dominion bureau of statistics reported Friday the Canadian carry-over of wheat at July 31, end of the 1945-46 crop year, was 69,858,181 bushels, compared with 258,072,830 at the corresponding date a year ago and was the lowest carry-over figure recorded since 1938.

The carry-over is the amount of grain left over from the old crop as the farm industry goes into the new crop year.

For the prairie provinces alone farm stocks at July 31 this year were, in bushels:

Manitoba—Wheat, 1,772,000; oats, 6,166,000; barley, 2,830,000; rye, 7,400; flaxseed, 57,000.

Saskatchewan—Wheat, 15,283,000; oats, 21,686,000; barley, 4,962,000; rye, 111,000; flaxseed, 489,000.

Alberta—Wheat, 8,785,000; oats, 13,046,000; barley, 5,454,000; rye, 97,000; flaxseed, 89,000.

The total amount of wheat held on farms across Canada was 27,203,000 bushels, the total amount of oats, 51,087,000, barley, 13,884,000; rye, 253,000, and flaxseed, 643,000.

The total amount of all Canadian grains held in Canada and the United States with corresponding figures for July 31, 1945, in brackets, follow, in bushels:

Wheat, 69,858,181 (258,072,830); oats, 75,221,488 (98,255,162); barley, 29,634,689 (25,919,181); rye, 714,486 (2,023,533); flaxseed, 1,643,259 (2,932,111).

Plane Takes Party Bound For Arctic

WINNIPEG, (CP)—For the crew of a Royal Canadian air force plane which took off from Winnipeg for Churchill, Man., Friday it was just another trip but for some of their 17 passengers aboard, it was the beginning of a new life in the northland—or a return to a home there.

The passengers included Dr. and Mrs. James Osborne, of Winnipeg, bound for Pangnirtung, Baffin Land, where they will help care for about 500 Eskimos. Sarah Powell of Ottawa who will be one of two nurses at the 5-bed Pangnirtung hospital, and Nannuk, an Eskimo woman, and her 13-months-old baby.

Ukraine Harvest Said Up 50 Percent

WINNIPEG, (CP)—L. C. Palamarchuk, chairman of a group of five delegates from the Soviet Ukraine, now in Canada on a "culture tour," said here Friday, that the average Ukraine harvest yield this year would be 50 percent higher than in 1945, despite the present droughts in southern sections.

Former reports said the yield in the Ukraine would be 11 to 12 bushels to the acre, but Mr. Palamarchuk was confident that the yield would be about 20 bushels to the acre.

Czechoslovakia will nationalize its 14 largest drug-making firms.

Long-shot Punters Get Juicy Returns

With Stardust Buck and Good Counselor providing the upsets, sweet payoffs were registered in both the third and sixth races of Friday's race card at the Edmonton Exhibition track.

Starting at odds of just under 13 to 1, Stardust Buck, owned by J. Bryans of Winnipeg and ridden by Jockey M. O'Talloran, came from third place in the stretch to win by a length over Jessie Girl, who in turn beat the favored Whifanani by a nose. Two dollar straights paid $27.85, while place tickets on the winner returned $10.10, with shows bringing $5.75.

L. Gow's Good Counsellor, a Calgary entry, did even better in the sixth when the payoff across the board was $29.10, $14.50, and $5.80. Running fourth at the three quarter pole, the two-year-old gelding with Jockey J. Burge in the saddle, moved fast hitting the stretch and won handily.

Superfine, owned by J. Wharff of St. Charles, Iowa, and the favorite in the race, made all the early pace, but could not hold off Counsellor in the final drive. Ideal Joe finished third, five lengths behind Superfine.

Showers Thursday night and during the day left the track muddy and times were again several seconds off, varying all the way from six in the opening five furlongs to 15 in the mile and sixteenth fourth race. Craiglagh, however, in the mile and eighth feature was just 10 1/5 over.

Unfavorable weather conditions with the thermometer hugging the 40 degree mark doubtless affected the attendance which was just over the 2,000 mark, but under the circumstances the mutuel play was surprisingly high, $57,062 being wagered. This figure is about $10,000 lower than for the corresponding day of the 1945 August meeting, but the total for the six days is considerably in excess of the handle for the same period a year ago.

Only two favorites came through on schedule Friday, Miss Dyke Lady (Stockyards Stable, Calgary) in the second and Tellus (Mrs. L. Ramey, also of Calgary) in the seventh race.

Fourth choice Donald C again shared in the quinella and for a time appeared a likely winner, Tellus finally taking over in the stretch and winning by a single length. There were 467 Tellus-Donald C tickets sold for the quinella, which returned $84.15.

Bobpara and Van Dyke Lady combined for a $17.90 payoff in the daily double with 197 tickets sharing in the pool.

Two claims were entered yesterday, Double or Nothing going to E. Bills in the third and Tarzana to A. McDonald in the fifth.

Swim Record

Shakamak State Park, Ind., Aug. 17.-(AP) Nancy Merki of Multnomah Club, Portland, Ore., set a United States record of 4:29.9 Friday in winning the senior 500-metre individual medley at the National A. A. U. Swimming and Diving meet.

NINE WINNERS: Roy Russell, leading rider on the prairie circuit this season, is continuing to head the win parade for jockeys during the current 13-day race meeting in Edmonton. Craiglagh, owned by the Winnipeg Stable, who took the feature Thursday, was Russell's ninth winner in the six days.

Paul Bailey In Money Four Times

Jockeys Roy Russell and Charlie Ulrich both had four mounts at the Exhibition track on Friday and each turned in one win.

Nicky Cizik's first, gives him one more than Paul Bailey, who however was in the money four times yesterday with two seconds and a pair of thirds.

Following is the standing of jockeys at the Edmonton race meeting

Russell	9	3	3
Ulrich	8	3	3

Thinks Australia Will Retain Cup

SYDNEY — Australia, Aug. 17— (CP)—Dinny Pails, returning last night from a tennis tour of England and Europe, expressed confidence Australia would retain the Davis cup, emblematic of world team championships, in the challenge round at Melbourne in December.

Australia has held the cup since 1939, when Jack Bromwich and Adrian Quist defeated the American team, 3 matches to 2, at Philadelphia.

Basing his conclusion upon what he saw at Wimbledon and in other tournament on the Continent, Pails said he believed an Australian victory was assured, providing the country's players "prepare thoroughly and settle down to serious training."

Walcott Kayoes Gomez in Third

NEW YORK, Aug. 17.—(AP)— Jersey Joe Walcott of Camden, N.J., knocked out Tommy Gomez of Port Tampa, Fla., in 1 minute and 21 seconds of the third round of the scheduled 10-round main event of a boxing show at Madison Square Garden last night.

Wolcott weighed 191¾ and Gomez 182½.

The Florida fighter bearing scars of 16 shrapnel and bullet wounds, was on the floor at the bell at the end of the second round after holding his own fairly well during that session.

The winner of last night's bout was expected to be next in line for a shot at the heavyweight crown, and the elated Walcott in his dressing room after the fight said he would welcome the chance to meet Joe Louis.

Claims Players More Intelligent

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Aug. 17.—(AP)—Today's baseball players are "faster and more intelligent" but yesterday's performers were "tougher specimens," says W. R. "Doc" Johnson, Chattanooga businessman and former big leaguer.

Johnson, a first baseman with Cleveland Indians 35 years ago told the Chattanooga Optimist Club that he once cut a deep gash in his foot and the manager "put a plug of tobacco in it and told me to get back on the field."

Bradley's Big Dream Not Quite Realized

By OSCAR FRALEY

NEW YORK, Aug. 17 (BUP) — The tall old gambling man with the thin lips and the cold blue eyes had cashed in his chips today without winning the last big bet.

Death had dissolved the dreams of Col. Edward Riley Bradley with the cold finality of a stacked deck. It came, prophetically for a man who was proud of being a gambler, after bitter years of heartbreak—13 of them.

Ed Bradley hadn't done too badly when he cashed them in Thursday at 86. Not bad at all for a youngster who shook the coal dust of Johnstown, PA., from his rundown heels at the tender age of 14 and successively became a gold miner, cowboy, Indian scout, gambler and multimillionaire.

BUT THE AUSTERE man with the white hair hadn't broken the bank when the big croupier raked them in. He needed one more race for his personal full house yet in those final years—the last 13—he failed to catch.

For Col. Ed wanted desperately to win the Kentucky Derby once again. The fleet thoroughbreds from his "Lucky B" stable at Idle Hour farm had taken Col. Matt Winn's blanket of roses on record four times. But Bradley was gambling for just one more. It grew through the years to be a passion.

Bradley bought his first race horse in 1898, a colt called Frier John.

THEY ASKED HIM about that time how he had become a gambler and Lucky Ed said:

"Men who lose their first bets seldom do."

He was a lucky gambler and had won his wagers. It was typical that Frier John did too, to start Bradley into the racing game on a big scale.

By 1920 he was ready to shoot for the big one, the derby, and it troubled him when he ran seventh. So the next year he nominated two colts and saw them run one-two. They were Behave Yourself and Black Servant. And even through the years, Bradley's thoroughbreds usually were in there at Churchill Downs. They went one-two again in 1926, as Bubbling over beat Haggendas, and Burgoo King made it three for him in 1932. Then, in 1933, the Colonel scored his coveted fourth with Brokers Tip —and pointed for the big one.

FOUR YEARS running he missed the jackpot and twice had nothing with which to play. Then came 1939 and the Colonel was desperately ill. But out in the barns was a two year old colt who brought Bradley back from the brink. It was a fleet youngster named Bimelech and Colonel Ed had to hold on because this time, he believed, he had another derby winner.

The crowd jammed into Churchill Downs in 1940 thought so, too. For they sent Big Bim out as the odds-on favorite. And as they thundered down the stretch the sick Colonel, sitting by a radio at Idle Hour farm, heard them call Bimelech on top by a half. Then, out of nowhere, flashed an outsider named Gallahadion to whirl by Big Bim and take the pot by a length and a half.

IT WAS A TERRIBLE blow to the old gambling man and for four years there were no Lucky B colts carrying the green and white Bradley silks as the band played "Boots and Saddles" at the downs. But there was a new light in the old man's eyes last year for once more a colt was holding him back from the big one.

Small wonder they called it Burning Dream, for the colt was a son of Bimelech.

It would have been nice if Big Bim's son had paid the debt by roaring home in front for Bradley. But Burning Dream finished a badly beaten ninth.

So the old gambling man has cashed them in, his dream unrealized. But he really tossed in his hand that spring day a year ago when the son of Bimelech failed. Thursday just made it official.

One gallon of a concentrated mixture of insecticide will cover as much a an acre of certain types of foliage.

Two Games Sunday

Games with Calgary Bears arranged for today were cancelled due to weather conditions, but two scheduled fixtures will be played by Edmonton Senior League teams Sunday afternoon.

Cubs will meet Eskimos at 1:30 p.m. with either Lefty Thomas or Marvin Millar pitching against the Eskimo ace, Lefty Belter. Morrie Hawkey and Tommy Brant are expected to be the respective pitchers for Cardinals and Cubs in the second half of the doubleheader.

TWIN CITY colored Giants from Minneapolis, managed by George White, will be here for exhibitions against Edmonton all-star clubs on Monday and Tuesday of next week, the games to commence at 6:15 p.m.

Edmonton all-star lineups to oppose the touring Giants will be chosen from the following players: Stevenson, Manly, Ornest, Flores, Martin Valenti, Stewart, Marlow, Superstein, Culver, Tedeschi, Newman, Price, and pitchers Belter, Hawkey, Miller, Whyte, Douzlech, Thomson, Darrah and Kemp.

Dodgers, Cards Both Defeated

By RALPH RODEN

NEW YORK, Aug. 17 (AP) — Brooklyn Dodgers still held a two-game margin over their St. Louis rivals in the National League after their erstwhile "cousins," Philadelphia Phillies turned them back 4-2 Friday. The margin was maintained when the Cardinals dropped a night session 2-0 to Pittsburgh Pirates.

Veteran Pitcher Oscar Judd turned back the Brooks with four hits, while Ken Heintzelman allowed but two hits as he shut out the Red Birds. The Bucs' hurler was trying for a no-hitter when Erv Dusak bounced a single off him in the eight. He then gave up a scratch single to Buster Adams in the last inning.

IN ADDITION to turning in a fine mound effort, the lefthanded Judd collected two hits, his second single climaxing a two-run eight inning rally that gave the Phils a break a 2-2 deadlock and gain their first win of the year at Ebbets field.

Judd's second saftey came after the Phils already had scored one run when catcher Bruce Edwards threw wild on an attempted home-to-first doubleplay. Andy Seminick crossed the plate with the clinching run on Judd's hit.

JUDD'S FIRST hit in the third inning eventually led to the Quakers' first run when starter Rube Melton walked the next three batters, Hugh Casey, who relieved was charged with the loss.

Manager Ben Chapman and first baseman Frank McCormick of the Phils were banished by umpire Butch Henline for arguing over a decision at first base in the Dodger half of the third, and trainer Dusty Cooke followed his manager to the showers in the fourth inning.

THE BOSTON RED SOX stretched their American League lead to 13 games as Mickey Harris scattered hits in pitching the Red Sox to a 4-1 victory over second place New York Yankees in the first of an important four-game series.

Joe DiMaggio connected his 19th homer of the season in the top of the sixth for the Yanks' lone run. After hitting his homer, Dimaggio left the game complaining of a strained right arm which he injured in the fifth when returning Bobby Doerr's single to the infield.

BOSTON'S HOME attendance figures soared over the million mark as 29,226 fans paid their way into fenway park.

Virgil (Fire) Trucks hurled the Detroit Tigers to a 3-1 win over the Chicago White Sox in the only other American League game of the day. It was Trucks 13th mound win.

U. S. Open Tourney Starts on Monday

PORTLAND, Ore. Aug. 17 (AP) — Byron Nelson's ailing back will be loaded down with the weight of four major tournament champions when he defends his United States Professional Golfers' Association title here next week.

Most of the other big names, too, will be trying for 63 qualifying berths as the 120-man field whittles itself down Monday and Tuesday. Toledo's Lord Byron will rest his aching sacroiliac through the qualifying play and step up to the tee Wednesday. As defending champion, he automatically qualifies.

Where the pressure will come from is anybody's guess, but these four are likely candidates: Sam Snead, the Virginia slammer, winner of the British open; Lloyd Mangrum, Chicago, holder of the United States open title; Ben Hogan, Hershey, Pa., Canadian P.G.A. open champ, and George Fazio, Los Angeles, Canadian open winner.

Servo's Manager "Very Provoked"

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17 (AP) — Al Weill, who manages Marty Servo, said last night he is all set to defy the New York Boxing Commission.

Weill, in approximately 10,000 rough hewn words, said he is very provoked at the boxing commission's ruling which bars Servo from having any warm-up bouts between now and Sept. 6. That's the date Servo defends his world's welterweight title against Ray Robinson in New York.

It is Weill's contention that Robinson is being allowed two fights, and —

"If he gets two fights, then my boy gets two fights. I don't care what they do to me. But they can't do that to my boy."

Braves Purchase San Diego Player

BOSTON, Aug. 17 (AP) — The purchase of infielder Jack (Lucky) Lohrke from San Diego Padres of the Pacific Coast League for cash and five players was announced Friday by general manager John Quinn of Boston Braves of the National League.

Lohrke, the most sought after young prospect in the Coast League, will report to the Braves at Fort Lauderdale, Fla., next spring. The youngster had been with the Padres only a short time, having been recalled from the Spokane Western International League club about an hour before a plane crash took the lives of nine Spokane players.

Lohrke was batting .363 for Spokane when called up by San Diego and last week his record was .331.

S. Side, Arrows To Meet Tonight

THree junior baseball playoff games are scheduled for Clarke Stadium tonight and Sunday afternoon. Arrows and South Side, two clubs which played to a 3-3 tie in the opening game of their semi-final on Wednesday, will meet again tonight starting at 6:15 o'clock.

Bob Coughlin or Gordon Kirkman will likely start on the mound for Arrows while Rollie Ulmer of Stony Plain will probably be in to chuck for the South Siders.

On Sunday, Canadians and Maple Leafs resume their series in a seven inning game starting at 1:30 o'clock. Canadians lead the best of three series by one game. Tommy McGregor of Canadians and George Horb of the Leafs will likely face each other.

In the second game Sunday, Arrows and South Side will resume their series. Mike O'Neill and Vern Callahan, who did the twirling for Arrows and South Side respectively in the tie game, will likely oppose again Sunday.

IRFU Will Open On September 7

OTTAWA, Aug. 17-(CP)-The augmented 24-game schedule for the 1946 Interprovincial Rugby Football Union season, opening Sept. 7, was released Friday by D. Wes Brown of Ottawa, I.R.F.U. secretary.

The big four teams—Montreal Alouettes, Toronto Argonauts, Hamilton Tigers and Ottawa Rough Riders—each have six home games and visit each of the other clubs twice during the regular season, which ends Nov. 9. Last year a 12-game home-and-home scheduled was played.

Biscan Doesn't Go for Uppers

Cleveland, Aug. 17-(AP)- Irked because he was assigned an upper berth instead of a lower, pitcher Frank Biscan of St. Louis Browns stalked off the train and remained behind when the team left for Cleveland to play the Indians, secretary Charles Dewitt of the Browns reported Friday.

Coast Boxla

VANCOUVER, Aug. 17 (CP) — Sparked by Jack Proctor, Richmond Friday night came through with a 14-11 victory over the Adanacs to tie with Burrards for the last playoff berth available in the Inter-City Lacrosse League.

Der Bingle Hopes Sons To Attend Notre Dame

BY BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, Aug 17.—(AP)—Notre Dame some day will have a quartet of singing undergraduates, if Bing Crosby's plans don't go awry.

FRANK LEAHY, football coach for the Irish, is in town and is reported seeking the future enrollment of Bing's eldest, Gary, 13. I asked the Croz about this.

"Yes, I'd like the boys to go to Notre Dame," he said, "if they have the grades and the talent."

As for the grades, he said the brood get A's and B's pretty regularly now at St. John's Military Academy.

CONCERNING THEIR talent: "They all sing around the house and play instruments. But its hard to tell yet—their voices haven't changed. I don't know where Gary's will go; it's always been the gravel type."

I ascertained this information in the ideal circumstances under which to interview Crosby—in bed. He was lying there, spitting maraschino cherries into a basket for "The Emperor Waltz." Puckish director Billy Wilder had him do it many times until Bing finally said: "I'm eating myself into cedars of Lebanon hospital."

ED WYNN AND bride honeymooning at Laguna where son Keenan is starring at a little theatre—Ty Power left yesterday to pick up his new twin-engine, eight-passenger plane in Wichita.

WHERE YOU BORN in August? Then you'd have a better chance of being an MGM star. Marilyn Maxwell, Robert Taylor, Tom Drake, Lucille Ball, Esther Williams, Butch Jenkins, Gene Kelly, Van Johnson and Jan Clayton will be a year older this month.

IT'S GOOD TO SEE that folks are finally discovering the fine "September Song." But it's best done by Walter Huston who introduced it in "Knickerbocker Holiday" (not the movie version which was one of the 10 worst pictures in the last decade).

Natives Oppose Old Standards

By JACK HOLDSWORTH

SYDNEY, Australia, Aug. 17—(CP)—An economic and social revolution is in progress in the Australian mandated territory of New Guinea, north of Australia, where Australians, Americans and Japanese waged some of the most bitter struggles of the Pacific war.

IT AMOUNTS to a struggle between the handful of white administrators, planters and traders trying to restore pre-war standards and 1,000,000 unorganized natives trying to retain the comparative luxury standards they had during the war when working for the armed forces.

The natives were paid about $6,000,000 during the war in wages and compensation money. They now are sitting back on this money and resisting calls for labor unless offered good wages.

Before the war, they were paid $1.25 a month. But, during the war they were paid up to $2.50 a month and want this rate continued. Some of the natives have gone even farther and are demanding as much as $3.60 to $10.80 a day for contract and casual work.

DURING THE WAR, they were fed on such European foods as canned meat and fish and developed a taste for them, now they show no inclination to get back to their pre-war diet of sweet potatoes.

Before the war, they were issued with lap-laps, a wrap-round skirt costing about five cents. During the war the Australian Army provided them with lap-laps of good English cloth costing up to one dollar. They now have the taste for good quality cloth and will not easily change back to the cheap pre-war quality. On top of this, the war gave them a taste for European clothes which they will not readily give up.

THEY ALSO GAINED an exaggerated sense of money value which the administrators are finding hard to break. American and Australian soldiers would often pay them up to one dollar each for a tropical fruit, for which they were lucky to get one cent before the war.

India to Improve Civil Milk Supply

NEW DELHI, Aug. 17—(CP)—To improve the milk supply of India's civil population, the quartermaster-general in India has offered to place the resources of the Military Farms Directorate at the disposal of civil administrations in this country. He has also expressed his willingness to implement such of the dairy farm schemes of the provincial governments as they may wish him to undertake on their behalf. In addition he is prepared to establish milk production units, each of which will be handed over, when running smoothly, to the governments concerned.

Aluminum Industry Advances in India

NEW DELHI, Aug. 17—(CP)—Spectacular developments have taken place in India's aluminum industry, which made a substantial contribution to the Allied war effort. India now ranks among the world's leading producers of aluminum, although this metal was first produced in that country in 1943. Earlier, Indian manufacturers depended entirely on imports.

EXTENSION TO the existing factory in Travancore is taking place and soon an output of 5,000 tons of aluminum per month is expected. Another factory in Bihar, now nearing completion, will have an ultimate capacity of 40,000 tons a year.

During the war Indian aluminum factories produced sheet and components for the manufacture of aircraft parts, radios and field equipment, range finders, binoculars and field hospital equipment. Many thousand long-range fuel tanks were manufactured for use by fighter aircraft in the Burma campaign.

IMMEDIATE POST-WAR developments include the manufacture of aluminum cable, paint and foil. A number of Indian technicians now are undergoing training in various plants in Canada.

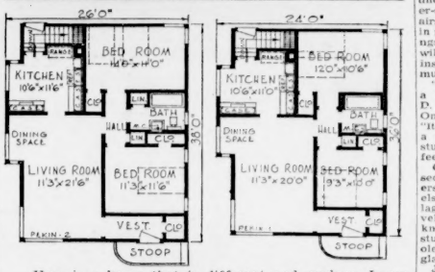
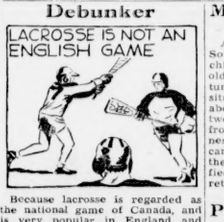
Homes of Moderate Cost



Here is a home that is different and modern. Large corner windows and a modern railed entrance porch accomplish a desired result without going to extremes. This is one of the homes illustrated, with plans, in the Bulletin's new booklet entitled "Homes of Moderate Cost" which you can obtain at the Bulletin office or have sent prepaid for the sum of 75c.

Debunker



Because lacrosse is regarded as the national game of Canada, and is very popular in England and Australia, most people believe the game originated in England or among the English. The truth is, however, that lacrosse is an ancient American sport, originated by the Iriquois Indian who called the game "bagataway." French settlers thought the long-handled racketsticks used by the players resembled the crook carried by bishops, and dubbed the game "la crosse." Great intertribal games with unlimited numbers of players on each team, were common among the Indians, and elaborate ceremonies attended the opening of the exhibitions.

Vegreville Plans Golf Tournament

The first two days of September will be big ones in Vegreville with preparations now underway for the holding of their 15th annual golf tournament, sponsored by the Vegreville Golf and Country Club. The event, which has always drawn an influx of visiting players, this year has a qualifying round of 18 holes for medal play, and flights of eight in match play. There are two prizes in each flight and two prizes in consolation of each flight. Entries for the tourney are now being received by H. D. Burgar, president, and Jas. Carle, captain. A fee of $2 is charged.

Missing Kiddies Return to Home

After sleeping in the woods near South Cooking lake all night, two children, Roy Poplar, five years old and his brother Joseph, 9, returned to St. Mary's summer home, situated on South Cooking lake, about 22 miles east of the city. The two boys were reported missing from the home about 3:30 p.m. Wednesday. RCMP from Edmonton carried out an all night search for the two youngsters and were notified early Thursday that they had returned to the home.

Politics Concern Of Every Citizen

ABERDEEN, Scotland, Aug. 17—(CP)— Sir William H. Fyffe, Principal and vice-chancellor of Aberdeen University and former principal of Queen's University, Kingston, Ont., told students at a summer graduation ceremony that politics is the concern of every citizen.

People who said politics was a dirty business condemned themselves. "They should not, either from timidity or from complacency, avert their attention from the urgent and complex political problems caused by the military uses of nuclear energy," he said.

"Emotional Line" New Art Concept

TORONTO, Aug. 17—(CP)—When Hitler drove the artist, L. Moholy-Nagy out of Germany he indirectly sent to this continent a revolutionary art concept that has won widespread approval.

NOW AT THE CHICAGO School of Design, the former staff member of Germany's famed Bauhaus Institution has introduced an art tradition which stresses the emotional approach as opposed to classical, intellectual precepts.

Studying the emotional enjoyment of line are 360 teachers enrolled at the Ontario College of Art here. And it is a safe bet that art classes under the direction of these teacher-students will no be the dull affairs of the past when children sat in rows and drew chalk boxes. Youngsters taught under this system will possibly have their drawings inspired by listening to a piece of music.

"An emotional line may look like a scribble, but it isn't," said C. D. Gaitskell, art supervisor for the Ontario department of education. "It is not a random movement, but a feeling for form. We tell each student that if he draws what he feels, then it is right."

CRAFTSMANSHIP is also stressed by the summer course. Teachers, besides learning to make models of, say, a small pioneer village which they could use to develop in their students an exact knowledge of a particular age, study the use of hand looms, linoleum cutting, scratch designs and glass work.

Just as the "emotional enjoyment of line" is furthered in the sketching and painting classes the "feeling in pattern" by means of montages can be developed. "Just as we play with paint to see what it can do, we play with materials to regain what we have forgotten entirely — the feeling in pattern given by an arrangement of glass, smooth and rough stucco, and metal," said principal Gaitskell.

THE MARKED evolution in art instruction in the summer course is demonstrated by the classes in "mobile sculpture" in which students are taught to imply movement in their work by both sweeping lines and moveable parts.

New Zealand Keeps Kiwi Eggs at Home

AUCKLAND, N.Z., Aug. 17—(CP)—The Melbourne Zoo has offered to send the Auckland Zoo a duck-billed platypus in exchange for a kiwi egg, and take the risk whether it hatched out or not, but the deal is off. The Auckland Zoo would like a duck-billed platypus, one of the world's queerest creatures which lays eggs and suckles its young, but the Government will not allow it to send the kiwi egg overseas. The kiwi, New Zealand's strange wingless bird, is becoming increasingly rare. The birds are strictly protected and it is forbidden to send them overseas. The Government fears that if one egg were sent out of the country, zoos all over the world would want them and the number of kiwis remaining in New Zealand would be still further reduced.

Weather Varied In Past Month

Edmonton had 313 hours of sunshine during the month of July; the mean maximum temperature was 75.2 degrees, and had twice the normal number of days with thunder storms, 10 in all, it is reported in the monthly summary of the Meteorological division of Air Services, issued by the department of transport.

WARMEST DAY was Sunday, July 21 when the temperature reached 88.4 degrees. Hours of sunshine, 313 is the highest since 1911 when 358 sunny hours were recorded.

The warmest day, Sunday July 21, has also the record for wind speed, the maximum speed for one hour being 40 miles per hour.

TOTAL PRECIPITATION for July was slightly below normal, the rainfall for the month being placed at 2.83 inches. This is below last year's record of 3.32 and considerably below the record for rainfall for July established in 1901 when 11.13 inches were recorded.

Following in the wake of the warmest day, was the record of eight frost occuring on July 23.

Diabetic Kiddies Doctor Themselves

WALTON-ON-THE-NAZE, England, Aug 17—(CP)—Forty-seven diabetic children who are one another's doctors diagnose one another's condition, prescribe and even apply injections while on a seaside holiday here. Varying in age from six to 16, the children fill their own syringes, know the proper doses, are experts in the art of injection, and carry about a lump of sugar to remedy over-strength "shots."

South Africa Aids "Can-Opener" Wives

"Can-opener wives" have created one of the biggest domestic problems in South Africa to-day. Husbands are finding their newly-wed wives incapable of boiling an egg or cooking a cauliflower. During the war, thousands of girls who left school went straight into the army or took up business posts away from home. Now they are getting married or returning to homes of their own with no experience in the kitchen. The South African Department of Agriculture regularly issues pamphlets dealing with best ways of preparing food for the table.

Propose New Bridge For Firth of Forth

EDINBURGH, Aug. 17—(CP)—More than 2,000 vehicles daily would pass over a proposed road bridge over the Firth of Forth, said Sir Fredrick Cook, formerly chief engineer of the transport ministry. This traffic would come from adjacent districts and would not take into account long distance traffic.

Wages in British Industry Well Ahead of Pre-war Days

LONDON, (CP)—Wage rates in British industry now are three-fifths higher than before the war, and wage and hour demands affecting thousands of workers still are pending.

Manufacturing plants, heart of the post-war exports drive to wipe out a huge adverse trade balance, are paying 74 percent more to their employes. The coal mines, soon to come under government management, are paying an extra 104 percent.

The average working week has fallen at the same time from 46.5 hours to 45.8; and the five-day week is becoming more common as reconversion progresses.

Ministry of labor estimates put the average weekly cash earnings in all industry, including agriculture, at about £5 16s 3d. ($23.25) this year compared with £3 8d. ($12.15) in 1939.

The biggest increases have been in the miscellaneous manufacturing trades, up by 96 percent; leather and fur trades, 79; engineering and shipbuilding, 73; food, drink and tobacco, 72; and chemicals 71.

During the same period the official cost-of-living index has risen slightly more than 30 percent. But there have been widespread complaints that the index, still calculated on the 1941 basis, is in accurate and a government committee is studying the need for a revision.

Application of the five-day week by big employers is spreading slowly but the Trades Union Congress, central organ of almost all British unions, terms its campaign in this direction "not really successful."

North China reports two-thirds of its telegraph and telephone lines were destroyed by the Japs, and 100,000 poles, 2,000 tons of wire and 140,000 dry cells are needed to restore service.

Reduce Soldier Settlers' Debts

OTTAWA, (CP)— Capt. Walter Tucker, parliamentary assistant to veterans minister Mackenzie, told the commons Friday that more than $1,000,000 had been written off the debts of 1,765 First Great War veterans who came under the Soldier Settlement act. The average was $630.

He disclosed that a recent order-in-council extended from Sept. 1 to Dec 31 a regulation under which those settlers may apply for reduction of their debts. In some cases as much as 50 percent of their debts had been eliminated.

Two-thirds of the settlers are located in Alberta and Saskatchewan, Mr. Tucker said in answering questions during consideration of estimates of the veterans' department.

Estimated annual cost of administering the Soldier Settlement board was $120,000. In the past two years there had been only five cancellations of settlers' contracts and one eviction.

Average age of the settlers was 57. Average debt of the 4,276 still owing money was $1,160.

Ontario Teachers Under Criticism

OTTAWA, (CP)—Concluding their four-day annual convention here Friday, the Canadian Teachers' Federation heard final committee reports after a heated discussion Thursday night during which Ontario teachers were criticized for their apparent inability to pay federation dues.

F. P. Lightbody of Vancouver, presenting the finance committee's report said the "finances of this organization are not such as to allow us to follow the policy we want to," but "if Ontario paid its full share we'd have enough money to organize a central office."

B. C. Gillie of Victoria said he could not guarantee British Columbia teachers would be willing to continue paying the 40-cent dues unless Ontario contributed more.

Two years ago the C.T.F. raised its federation dues from 20 cents to 40 for each of the 50,000 member teachers. Ontario, with 22,000 teachers, and New Brunswick were the only provinces unable to pay the increase.

Says Reds Want Socialist State

BERLIN, (AP)—Gen. Joseph T. McNarney, commander of United States occupation forces in Germany, said Friday that the ultimate objective of the German Communist party is "to destroy the capitalist system and establish a socialist state with a classles society."

Gen. McNarney attributed the same objective to the Russion-sponsored Socialist unity party, formed in the Soviet occupation zone by a merger of Communists and Socialist Democrats. He added that the Communist program "contains a threat to resort to revolutionary means if the capitalist class forsakes the ground of democracy."

Pioneer Spirit Is Extinct, One in 10 Would Hunt Gold

By Canadian Institute of Public Opinion

TORONTO, — "Too much risk involved." "I like the comforts of home too well." "Too many sacrifices, perhaps for nothing." "I have a wife and family to consider."

So go the reasons why the majority of typical adult Canadians think they would be unmoved by the lure of gold, even if a new Klondike rush were to beckon.

If the traditional Canadian pioneer spirit is to be maintained, the challenge will best be cast to youth. Security, comfort and caution would deter Canadians of voting age, judging from the responses to the suggestion in the latest Gallup poll of adults, with all groups accurately represented.

Reporters of the institute asked: "If there suddenly were a big gold rush, such as that of the Klondike, with all its excitement, risks, and hardships, would you feel like packing up and going?"

The idea left four out of five cold:

Yes, would feel like going	20%
No, would be unaffected	76%
Undecided	4%

The 20 percent who said they would "feel like going," were then asked:

"Do you think you really would go?"

Only one-half would:

Yes	10%
No	7%
Undecided	3%

While 10 percent may seem a small proportion of adult Canadians, if that percentage actually packed off to distant parts, it would constitute a migration of 750,000.

Younger voters, small town folk, the laboring class and British Columbians are more attracted than are business and professional people, farmers and older citizens, the institute found. Even 40-year-olds in many cases felt they were "too old" or "couldn't stand the pace." On the other hand, one lady over 50 gave as her sole reason for not going: "My husband wouldn't let me."

Adventure, excitement, "the hope of making a rich strike" were the principal reasons mentioned by those who said they would go. But not all conceived the idea in terms of mulling for gold. A nurse would like it as a new field in which to practice her profession. Several thought of making a fortune by "opening a saloon."

But law and order would also be ensured, as evidenced by the lawyer who would go promptly "and establish a business before competition became prohibitive."

Brushes Too Wide So Painters Quit

BEVERLY, Mass., (NANA)—Painting of a local housing project of Quonset huts, scheduled to be occupied by families of 72 war veterans Sept. 1, was halted here when the agents of the A.F.L. painters union stopped workers alleged to have been using paint brushes half an inch larger than union standards, and also to be violating a contract agreement on preparing surfaces for paint.

Clarent Starrett, business agent of the union said he had ordered six painters off the job when it was found they were using five-inch brushes instead of ones 4½ inches wide, and also to be neglecting "sparkling"—filling in cracks and touching up rust spots before applying paint.

All interior work on the metal, arc-shaped houses at the project ceased, Starrett said, but two painters worked on the outside with two brushes which did meet union regulations.

Youth Admits Guilt Causing Near-Panic

BROCKVILLE, Ont., (CP)—Robert James Gendron, 16, of Prescott, was remanded a week for sentence after he admitted in court that he was responsible for the nauseating fumes which caused a near-panic in a Prescott theatre Wednesday night.

First attributed to a "powerful stench bomb," the fumes stopped the show as many of the 200 persons in the audience became violently ill and left the theatre vomiting and coughing.

Gendron said he made the evil-smelling chemical concotion himself with the intention of using it in trapping and hunting. Two youths, who said they saw him sprinkle some of the chemical near a rear exit of the theatre, aided police in identifying him.

BOATING

THE old sauce dish which the Teenie Weenies had made into a swimming pool was usually filled with Teenie Weenies during the warm days. The Dunce spent every spare moment from his tasks diving from the tiny springboard or floating about in the water. The Dunce is generally most generous, but sometimes he is quite selfish in his use of the pool. He takes more than his share of dives from the diving board and he likes to splash the Teenie Weenie women, much to their disgust, when they go for a swim.

One morning when two of the Teenie Weenie women went for a dip they found the Dunce paddling about the dish in a peapod canoe. Now, canoeing in the creek is all right, but when it comes to canoeing in a sauce dish, that is another matter. When the little women asked him to take the canoe out, the Dunce rudely refused. They called the Teenie Weenie Policeman, who ordered the Dunce to take the canoe out of the pool.

"This is no place for a canoe," said the Policeman.

"Why not?" asked the Dunce. "There's water here and where there is water, there is canoeing."

"But this is a swimming pool and there isn't room in this dish to swim and canoe at the same time," said the Policeman.

"There's lots of room in here," the Dunce argued, standing up in the canoe and waving his hand around the rim of the dish.

"Someone is liable to get hurt with that canoe in there," said the Policeman. "You get it out, and get it out quick, or I'll have to place you under arrest."

"O. K. Go ahead and arrest me," grinned the Dunce, for he knew the Policeman wasn't a very good swimmer and that he was safe in the canoe as long as he kept out of reach.

While the Policeman was thinking of some plan to capture the Dunce, the Sailor came climbing up to the diving platform. When he saw the Dunce in the canoe he began shouting at the top of his voice.

"What are you doing with my canoe in here? That's my best canoe and you've taken it without my consent," cried the Sailor. Diving into the pool, he quickly pulled the Dunce out and handed him over to the Policeman, who then marched him off to the General for trial.

The General sent the Dunce to the pint fruit jar which the Teenie Weenies used for a jail. "Two hours in jail for taking the Sailor's canoe," said the General, "one hour for paddling a canoe in the pool and half an hour for sassing the Policeman."

200 Educationists Will Attend Parley

DR. FLETCHER PEACOCK

More than 200 leading educationists from every province in Canada and from Newfoundland are expected to attend the annual convention of the Canada-Newfoundland Education Association opening in the Macdonald hotel Monday under the chairmanship of Dr. Fletcher Peacock, of Fredericton, New Brunswick.

THE CONVENTION will continue for five days. It is the 23rd annual meeting of the body.

Presidential address will be delivered by Dr. Peacock at the Tuesday session, the opening day being taken up with directors' meetings.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS will be held Thursday.

On Wednesday, Premier Ernest Manning will speak.

Every deputy minister of Education in the nine provinces is attending the convention according to Dr. Charles E. Phillips, Toronto, secretary of the association.

DR. G. FRED McNALLY, recently retired as deputy minister of education for Alberta is a director.

The Newfoundland delegate is R. L. Andrews, of St. John's.

The association which has been in existence for 30 years has as a main objective the linking up of education authorities of the nine provinces and Newfoundland.

EXCHANGE OF teachers between provinces is sponsored and about 50 teachers are to be exchanged this year.

Recently the association presented a brief on school broadcasting to the parliamentary committee on radio.

There is also an exchange of educational knowledge with the United States. Setting up of an educational research department is another matter now being planned. School health problems are also studied.

The association has made a large collection of school supplies for war ravished Europe.

Polio May Delay School Opening

Local boards of health at Wetaskiwin and Barrhead are considering the advisability of delaying the opening of schools due to the outbreak of infantile paralysis and its severity in these districts, it was learned Saturday from provincial health authorities.

Records to date show that each community has had four cases of the disease, victims of which were numbered among the four fatalities reported earlier.

With Edmonton city health officers closed on Saturday no late information was available on new cases, and no new cases have been reported to the provincial department of health.

Alberta's figures on the polio outbreak for 1946 remain at 26 cases since Jan. 1, with four fatalities and 12 of the 26 cases occurring in August.

Plan Strike Vote At Burns Plant

Application will be made immediately to the Board of Industrial Relations for permission to hold a strike vote in the Edmonton plant of Burns and Company, it was stated Saturday by Mrs. E. Wilson, vice-president of Local 233 of the United Packinghouse Workers of America (CIO).

MRS. WILSON, who has received wired instruction from union headquarters in Toronto, said that all haste possible will be used in preparations for the taking of the strike ballot after the board has granted permission.

Only comment on the breakdown of negotiations in Toronto was to the effect that she thought all employees of the Burn's local would have been much more pleased had negotiations continued without the necessity of taking a strike ballot here.

SHE SAID that the vote should be completed by nearly next week and although she could not speak for Canada Packers' employees she presumed they would be taking similar action.

UPWA officials of Local 280 at Swifts said their union is prepared for strike action if called, since their vote was taken early in the month and favored strike action overwhelmingly.

Cafe Damaged

Slight damage to the doorway and the tiled front panelling of the Purple Lantern cafe, 10049 101A avenue was caused sometime Friday night or Saturday morning when an automobile climbed the curb and ran in to the front of the premises. Discovery of the tracks leading up to the doorway was made about 6 a.m. by a city police constable.

Leagues Planning Soap Box Derby

The Edmonton Federation of Community Leagues will sponsor a soap box derby and variety program in conjunction with Recreation Week Sept. 1 to Sept. 7. The program will take place at 6:30 p.m. on Sept. 4; the soap box derby being held on Mcdougal hill with a program of dances, musical rides, model aircraft display, mass choir, community singing, etc. on Diamond Park.

REFRESHMENT booths will be on the grounds to look after the hungry. All contestants for the soap box derby must be between the ages of 12 and 16 years and must have their parents sign the entry form. Entry forms may be obtained by applying to the Recreation Commission offices at the Civic Block.

Ken Lewis, president of the Edmonton Federation of Community Leagues, and Jack Reilly of the Recreation Commission, are in charge of arrangements. Acup for annual competition and valuable prizes will be awarded the winners.

School Trustees Open Convention

Thirty delegates gathered at Athabasca Hall, university campus Saturday morning for the two-day session of the Canadian School Trustees' Association's annual convention.

DR. FLETCHER PEACOCK, of Fredericton, N.B., president of the Canada-Newfoundland Education Association, and director of education for New Brunswick, gave the address of the morning, on "Composite High Schools." At the luncheon meeting at noon, Hon. R. E. Ansley, minister of education in the Alberta government, spoke.

In the afternoon discussions on capital financing, plant and equipment were led by J. Barsby, Nanaimo, B.C.; on current financing by the representatives from Saskatchewan. Nominations and resolutions' committees were named and discussion of reports and resolutions followed.

SUNDAY THE delegates will attend a church service at Metropolitan United Church at 7:30 p.m. when the subject of the address will be "Education."

Sessions will continue on Monday.

Cafe Owner Fined

Fined $50 and costs or 30 days in default of payment, Mrs. Mary Kwan, cafe owner, was convicted in police court Saturday on a charge of selling liquor without a permit. Mrs. Kwan was arrested by Sergt. Detective Ernest Hall and Detective Constable Ernest Hall.

Board Preparing Turnley Report

Report by the Edmonton school board on the Turnley system of reading is now in its final stages and will be ready soon for submission to authorities of the provincial department of education, R. S. Sheppard, superintendent of city schools, said Saturday. Experiments with the reading system have been conducted in city schools during the summer, and comparisons have been made between classes using the conventional readers and the Turnley system, claimed by its author, Francis J. Turnley, to be capable of advancing by several years a school beginner's ability to read.

Churches Continue Summer Services

The joint summer services of Knox and Metropolitan Churches will continue in Metropolitan Church on Sunday with the Rev. Elgin G. Turnbull preaching both morning and evening. The delegates to the Canadian school trustees' convention will be attending the morning service, Mr. Turnbull will speak at the morning hour on the theme "For Such a Time As This" and at the evening service on "Solid Facts on Which We Can Build." The choir of Metropolitan Church will lead the congregation in praise.

City Receives Kicks After Rain

City officials have been listening to a large number of complaints from residents with flooded basements due to torrential rains during the past five days.

City street and water departments have been doing everything possible to provide relief through portable pumping facilities.

Before The Magistrate

Pleading guilty to a charge of dangerous driving, Ronald Woodbridge was fined $40 and costs, or two months imprisonment when he appeared before Magistrate A. L. Millar, KC, in city police court Friday. The accused had driven through an intersection with red lights on at 9:30 p.m., passed a car on the wrong side and sideswiped it then failed to stop to see what damage had been caused. It was also found that the brakes on his vehicle did not have the proper gripping efficiency.

For failing to return to the scene of an accident Walter May was fined $20 and costs.

On a charge of vagrancy, Georgina Laframbaise was sentenced to 30 days imprisonment.

Police Seeking Missing Persons

Three more requests have been received by the city police department in seeking missing persons and information as to their whereabouts will be appreciated.

Mrs. Estelle Manwill, Pittsburg, Calif., is seeking her father Eugene Arthur Georges des Haux de Fastree, usually goes by the name of Eugene Arthur Georges des Haux. A letter from Holland states that Mr. Deverdio is seeking Howard John Browne who joined the Algonquin Regiment in 1941. His regimental number was 5961026861. WINIFA has asked city police to aid in locating Ilko Oszczypok, who came to Canada from Poland in July, 1927. His last known address was 9628 106 avenue. His wife, at present in an UNRRA displacement camp, is seeking him.

Word was received in Edmonton Saturday of the death in Calgary of F. J. Hoopermans, engineer and chief of the Canadian Western Natural Gas, Light, Heat and Power Co., Ltd. Mr. Hoopermans was 58 years old, and employed with that company for 33 years.

Horse Stealing Is Still Popular

Horse stealing is still a popular type of crime, Mrs. A. Ferguson, 12704 82 street, reported to police that two horses were taken from her yard sometime during the past ten days. One of the animals was later found tethered in the Westglen school grounds. The other still missing is described as black with four white legs and a white face. The horses are the property of J. W. Patton, Bon Accord, and were last with Mrs. Ferguson to be broken for the saddle.

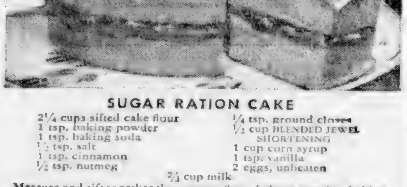
SWEET AND LOW on sugar!
In fact, no sugar at all is needed for these two flavoursome recipes—so clip them both. One a tempting spicy cake, the other a seasonal treat—blueberry muffins. Save sugar, time and money by using SWIFT'S BLENDED JEWEL SHORTENING. You'll find SWIFT'S JEWEL blends so quickly, so easily. Now, due to the world fat shortage, Jewel is hard-to-find. However, Swift's are trying to distribute the available Jewel fairly.
Martha Logan



BLUEBERRY MUFFINS
2 cups sifted pastry flour or 1¾ cups sifted hard-wheat flour
3 tsps. baking powder
½ tsp. salt
1 cup fresh blueberries, washed and dried
1 egg
¾ cup milk
¼ cup corn syrup
2 tbsps. BLENDED JEWEL SHORTENING, melted
Measure and sift together once, then sift into a bowl, the flour, baking powder and salt; add the blueberries and mix lightly, using a fork. Beat the egg until thick and light; stir in the milk, corn syrup and melted Blended Jewel. Make a well in the flour mixture and add the liquid all at once; combine lightly just until the two mixtures are incorporated. Pour into Jewelled muffin pans. Bake in a moderately hot oven, 375°F., 20 to 25 minutes. Yield—10 average muffins. (You can be sure the blueberries will retain all their lush flavour, because Blended Jewel is absolutely bland.)

SUGAR RATION CAKE
2¼ cups sifted cake flour
1 tsp. baking powder
1 tsp. baking soda
½ tsp. salt
1 tsp. cinnamon
½ tsp. nutmeg
¼ tsp. ground cloves
½ cup BLENDED JEWEL SHORTENING
1 cup corn syrup
1 tsp. vanilla
2 eggs, unbeaten
⅔ cup milk
Measure and sift together three times, flour, baking powder, baking soda, salt, cinnamon, nutmeg and cloves. Cream the Blended Jewel—it creams so easily. Blend in corn syrup and vanilla; beat well. Add about ⅓ of the flour mixture and combine lightly. Add the unbeaten eggs, one at a time, beating after each till the egg is well mixed. Add the remaining flour mixture alternately with the milk, combining lightly after each addition. Pour batter into two 8" or 9" round layer pans or a 8" x 12" pan. Bake in a moderate oven, 375°F., 20 to 40 minutes, depending upon size of pan used. If desired, put layers together with jam and ice top of cake with frosting; garnish attractively.

Wartime Austerity Banished as Brocades and Laces Beautify Brides Again

Trains, Trimmings, Return to Enrich Wedding Gowns As Bridal Outfitters Say Shortages Easing on 'Extras'

Pity the poor bride who got married in wartime.

Hampered by lack of bridal materials . . . harassed by government austerity rules which forbade her to have trains or other "extras" on her gown . . . she found it hard to gild the lily.

Today that picture has changed for the better. Materials, although still scarce, are coming in more abundantly and almost all government regulations in regard to styling have been lifted.

This autumn's bride may, if she wishes, order a gown with a full skirt, a flowing train, a peplum or flounces, or any other of the little extras forbidden when materials were strictly conserved.

She can pick and choose, too, from a wide range of satins and taffetas. In Edmonton satin seems to be the reigning favorite for the bridal gown, perhaps because it is obtainable in such lovely shades as ice blue, blush and sea green. By September, the bride should have a choice of rich brocades and delicate English laces, also.

Her gown, if she keeps in step with fashion, will be much more elaborate than that worn by the wartime bride. One of the most interesting features about the new styles will be the beautiful workmanship and greater attention to detail. Embroidery will be stressed as will be ornaments of seed pearls and flowers of self material.

The neckline of the gown is also in the fashion spotlight. The sweetheart neckline, long a popular favorite, will give way to such variations as the keyhole, slit, or buttoned tailored type. There will be a marked tendency, too, toward fuller skirts and longer trains.

Another change which will gladden the bride's heart is an increase in the amount of bridal veiling. In wartime days, she considered herself lucky if she got enough material for a chapel veil.

Today, although she may have to search through the stores for the desired material, she is fairly sure of finding what she wants—and in the right quantity.

Mrs. Kenneth William Lucas, the former Miss Doreen Emily Gerlitz, is shown above after her marriage recently at St. Stephen's College chapel. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Gerlitz, of Edmonton, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Lucas, also of Edmonton. The newlyweds have taken up residence in Vancouver.—Photograph by William Kensit.

Mr. William L. J. Fallow, and his bride, the former Miss Mary Elizabeth (Betty) Moffatt, are shown above receiving congratulations from the bride's mother, Mrs. W. B. Moffatt, at a reception after their wedding Thursday. The groom is a son of Hon. W. A. Fallow, minister of public works, and Mrs. Fallow, of Edmonton. The newlyweds will reside in Edmonton.—Picture by Foto-Craft.

Two sisters who were early August brides in this city are shown in the layout, left. On the left is Mr. Walther George Baron and Mrs. Baron, the former Miss Olga Sharun, who were married in a ceremony in St. Peter's Lutheran church, and on the right is Mr. Alfred Rebus and his bride, the former Miss Kay Sharun, whose marriage took place in the rectory of Holy Rosary church. The brides are daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Steve Sharun, of Chipman. Mr. and Mrs. Baron will reside at 11939 64 st., Edmonton, and Mr. and Mrs. Rebus will also make their home here.—Photographs by Deayton's Photo Studio.

Mr. and Mrs. William T. Hutchinson, right, are shown with their attendants after their wedding recently at Christ church of England. The bride, the former Barbara Ellen Curtis, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Curtis, of Edmonton, and the groom is the son of Dr. and Mrs. A. H. Hutchinson, of Vancouver. The newlyweds will make their home in Toronto. Flowers for Fall Pose No Problem at All

By Mae Bate

The young lady looking forward to her wedding day in the fall and pondering over what type of bouquet she would like and what flower she prefers, might have her problem made easier by the following suggestions made by a city florist.

The ideal flower for fall would be chrysanthemums in blending shades, such as bronze, golden yellow, or white, in the giant or the baby chrysanthemums. The tall bride would be attractive carrying a cascade bouquet, which lends itself better to height. At the present moment the semi-cascade bouquet rates high. Although just as beautiful, it is not quite as elaborate as the cascade.

Now, a helpful hint for the shorter girl. It seems a colonial type of bouquet, either large or small, is "first" with these brides. A beautiful bouquet can be made up with vari-colored blossoms, or, if the bride prefers, with roses and carnations, or the flower of her choice.

For the bride who wears a suit a corsage is definitely better. Gardenias take preference and these can be made up with roses or stephanotis, a star-shaped blossom. During the winter season the floral muffs will be in high demand.

Mr. William Robert (Bob) McLachlan is pictured with his bride, the former Miss Edith Marie Sandahl, after their wedding which took place in McDougall Memorial chapel. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Sandahl of Hardisty and the groom is the son Mr. and Mrs. Charles P. McLachlan of Edmonton. They will make their home in Vancouver.—Photograph by Goertz Studios.

Mr. James W. Henderson and his bride, the former Miss Nellie M. Cholost, whose marriage took place recently at All Saints' cathedral. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Cholost of Luscar and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Henderson, of Colinton. The newlyweds are residing in Luscar.—Photograph by Goertz Studio.

Find Out What They'll Need; Save 'Wedding Gift Headache'

Puzzled about a gift for the bride and groom? Well, put your mind at ease as here are a few helpful suggestions:

Those shiny pieces of silverware, such as trays, plates, bowls, and baskets, are always welcomed by the bride as she knows they will add that extra touch to her table or mantle.

The newly married couple will also appreciate a piece of mellow toned pottery, like a jug or a vase which can do a double duty of holding flowers in season or at other times giving a splash of color to a stairway niche or window.

The all important table linen is ranked high among the bridal gifts. Her linen collection should always be a personal matter of utmost pride and care. The girl of today often buys her linen all at once and does not purchase anything more than necessities. Gifts can include, table cloths, serviettes, sheets, pillow cases, and bathroom linens.

In order not to repeat a gift the bride and groom have already received, find out what they will need in their home. If you do this it will more or less ease your gift shopping troubles.

Mr. and Mrs. O. Martin Plotka are photographed above in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fern Perry, 12608 107 ave. immediately after their wedding there this week. The bride is the former Miss Beryl Margaret MacLeod, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. MacLeod, of Edmonton, and the groom is a son of Mrs. Sonia Plotka, of New York City. On return from a wedding trip to Glacier National park and New York, the newlyweds will reside in Edmonton.—Picture by Foto-Craft.

Pictured after their wedding which took place at First Baptist church are Mr. Bryan Collins Colwell and his bride, the former Evelyn Eileen Swail. The bride is the only daughter of Dr. and Mrs. L. H. Swail of Edmonton and the groom is the son of Rev. and Mrs. T. C. Colwell of Vancouver. They will make their home in Toronto.—Photograph by Goertz Studios.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon LeRoy Haliburton are shown after their wedding recently at Christ Church of England. The bride, the former Miss Margaret Wilhelmina Los, is the daughter of Mrs. Gerard Los, of Toronto, and the late Mr. Los. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy H. Haliburton, of Edmonton.—Photograph by Goertz Studio.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Michael Collins are shown after their wedding recently at St. Joseph's cathedral. The bride, the former Miss Elizabeth Mary (Betty) Lauerman, is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph M. Lauerman, of Edmonton, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Collins, of Kinmount, Ont. The newlyweds will make their home in Edmonton.—Photograph by Housez Studio.

Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus Henry Borton are shown after their recent marriage which was performed by Rev. T. T. Reikie at his home. The bride, the former Miss Florence Minnie Wilkerson, is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. George W. Wilkerson, of Leduc, and the groom is the son of Mrs. Robert G. Borton, of Edmonton, and the late Mr. Borton.—Photograph by Housez Studio.

Plan Interesting Lectures For School of Religion

By HELEN FERRIS

Lectures on Russia, India, and evangelization in this atomic age, will be among the timely and interesting features of the annual Summer School of Religion to be held at St. Stephen's College from Aug 20 to 30.

PROF. G.B. BAIRD

THIS COURSE is sponsored by the Alberta Conference of the United Church of Canada, and offers a series of inspirational addresses by distinguished speakers for the benefit of ministers, their families, and interested church leaders. It is under the direction of the Rev. Dr. E. A. Thompson, principal of St. Stephen's College.

The sessions will open with a period of worship conducted by visiting ministers from 8:30 to 9 a.m. each day.

On Wednesday and Thursday, Aug. 21, 22, from 9 to 9:50 a.m. the Rev. C. G. Kinsey of Grande Prairie will speak on "Home Mission Work and Use of Radio."

AT THE SAME HOUR Aug 23, 26, 27, 28, 29, 30, Dr. Thompson will give a series of lectures on "The Backgrounds of Pioneer in India." He will discuss "Three religions which have made a deep impression on the people: Hinduism, Buddhism, and Mohammedanism. It is believed that a study of these religions will enable us to understand modern developments in India. The lectures will indicate something of the contribution which Christianity has to make to the thought and religion of the people.

On Aug. 27 and 28, at the same hour, the Rev. G. M. Tuttle of Sangudo will speak on a phase of young people's work.

Throughout the course, from 10 to 10:50 a.m. each day, Prof. G. B. Caird, an outstanding authority and teacher of Old Testament language and literature at St. Stephens College, will deliver addresses entitled "Ten Words of the Bible". His progress will be from righteousness, mercy, love, spirit, glory, repentance, Word, and the ask of the Covenant.

PROF. E. H. GOWAN, of the department of physics, University of Alberta, will discuss "Civilization and Atomic Energy," on Aug. 20, 21, 22, from 11 to 11:50 a.m.

Chancellor Wallace T. Brown of Victoria University, Toronto, will be the speaker at this hour on Aug. 23, 26, 27, 28. R. Gordon, department of English, University of Alberta, Aug. 26 and 27; and Prof. R. W. Collins, department of history, Aug. 28, lecturing on some phases of the Russian scene. Other members of the faculty will speak.

Highlight of the evening programs will be a concert under the direction of Howard Stutchbury following a special hour, on Wednesday, Aug. 21 at 8 p.m.

ON FRIDAY, Aug. 23 and Tuesday, Aug. 27 at 8 p.m. addresses will be given by Chancellor Brown and Dr. G. Fred McNally, respectively.

This annual School of Religion is enthusiastically acclaimed by Alberta clergymen as a helpful and [illegible] was attended by between 40 and 50 ministers and church leaders. This year, it is expected that the attendance will be even greater.

TODAY'S MESSAGE

THE GOSPEL AT HOME

It is good to be interested in winning Christian converts in Africa, China or any other place where the seed of the Gospel is being sowed. Christ's injunction was to "teach all nations." But it would be imprudent to let zeal for the salvation of far-away peoples blind us to the need of keeping the Gospel strong in our hearts and lives.

We may be sure there will always be enough noble-hearted men and women willing to devote their lives to the missionary cause. But if the converts they win are to be offset by Christians at home who "fall away" from the practice of religion and let themselves lapse into virtual paganism, the cause of Christianity can hardly be expected to make much headway.

There are great numbers of people who are "good" in a purely natural sense, but mere goodness does not make a christian. A savage in Africa or the Solomon Islands may be just as good, if not better, but he still needs the Christian faith. What all men must have is an infusion of the spirit of Christ that will create in them a conscious striving toward spiritual perfection.

Believing this, we cannot but bewail the fact that many "Christian" men and women spend their days in such a way as to suggest that they have never even heard of God. These people do not go to church; they do not pray; they do not even know the fundamentals of Christian teaching. They are far more responsive to the demands of the temporal life than they are to the dictates of the spiritual. They are the barren soil on which the seed of the Gospel withers and dies.

It is a tragedy when a single individual fails in the primary obligation of ever serving, loving and honoring God. But when we have to reckon such individuals by the countless thousands, the cumulative tragedy is beyond our measuring. There is, thus, a need not only to spread the Gospel throughout the world, but strive for its growth and practice at home.

COME TO CHURCH THIS SUNDAY

Special Services For Tabernacle

Mr. Magnus

The Rev. J. D. Carlson, the pastor-evangelist of the Beulah Tabernacle, announces that this Sunday is another special day in the Church which is located at 98 street and 107 avenue. In the morning Holy Communion will be observed and the dedication of infants will feature the service.

There will be special singing by a travelling male quartette after which the minister will speak on the subject "Bible Separation-What the Bible says about Christians being joined with unbelievers in marriage-in lodges-and in churches." In the evening service which is held in the spacious Dreamland theatre, the male quartette will be heard in several special selections after which the Rev. George Magnus will tell his stirring life story —"Why I left the Church of Rome." Monday morning at 11 o'clock the Tabernacle will begin five days of children's meetings featuring the showing of pictures of the life of Christ, singing of Gospel choruses, telling of object lessons. A prize will be given to every child attending. All children are invited to attend the first service Monday morning at 10 o'clock.

Worry thrives on concealment of its cause. It usually happens that when the cause is discussed frankly with some trusted person, the load of worry grows much lighter, if it does not disappear altogether.

GEMS FROM SWEDENBORG:

Man is not born into actual evils, but only into an inclination to evils, with a greater or less proclivity towards particular evils. Consequently, after death man is not judged from any enherited evil, but from the actual evils which he has himself committed. This is evident from the following statute of the Lord: "The father shall not die for the son, and the son shall not die for the father; everyone shall die for his own sin." Deut. 24-16. True Christian Religion.

Swedenborg's writings are available in every public library. Out of town readers may get copies from the University Extension Library. For complete list phone 26062.

Rev. C. E. F. Wolff To Be Inducted

The Rev. C. E. F. Wolff, who will be inducted as rector of St. Stephen's Anglican Church Sunday morning by the Rt. Rev. W. F. Barfoot, Bishop of Edmonton. He succeeds the Rev. Canon J. C. Mathews, who is retiring from the ministry.

BORN IN LONDON, England, Mr. Wolff is a graduate of McGill University and the Montreal Diocesan Theological College. He was ordained in All Saint's Cathedral, Edmonton, as a deacon in 1934 and as a minister in 1935.

After his ordination, he served parishes in Vegreville, Barrhead, and Sedgewick until his enlistment in the chaplaincy service in 1942. While on the continent overseas, he was chaplain to 12 Canadian general hospitals. He returned recently from active service.

MR. WOLFF IS MARRIED and has one little girl. His wife is the former Miss Maria Boutillier of Sorel, Lake, whose father, A. M. Boutillier, was a member of Parliament to Ottawa in 1935-56.

Air Force Padre To Get Discharge

Sqdn-Ldr. J.A. Forbes

Sqdn-Ldr. J.A. Forbes will leave the city next week for Lachine, Quebec to receive his discharge from the RCAF. He will take over the pastorate of St. Paul's United Church in Fredrickton, N.B., on Sept. 1.

PADRE FORBES is a former pastor of Queen's Square Centennial Church in St. John, N.B., of which the Rev. Angus J. MacQueen was minister before coming to Robertson United Church here. He was later called to St. John's United church, Winnipeg, where he ministered until enlisting in the chaplaincy corps of the RCAF five years ago.

First Protestant chaplain of No. 3 Manning Depot here, he returned to Edmonton in May, 1945, after three-and-a-half years on active service overseas, to become senior chaplain of the North West Air Command.

HE IS TO BE succeeded by Sqn-Ldr. Frank Melrose.

Christian Science

The Lesson-Sermon at Christian Science church on Sunday will be on "Soul." It is expounded in such passages as these: "For God giveth to a man that is good in his sight wisdom, and knowledge, and joy." (Ecclesiastes 2: 26). "Unselfish ambition, noble life-motives, and purity,—these constituents of thought, mingling, constitute individually and collectively true happiness, strength, and permanence." Villagers Send Thanks for Food

Thanks to the people of Canada, Great Britain and the U.S.A., from the people in the village of Voorhout, Holland, for gifts of food, has been received in Canada through the medium of booklets prepared by the Help Action Red Cross committee in Voorhout. One little booklet has been sent from D. H. Tomlinson, comissioner of the Alberta division Canadian Red Cross Society.

THE BOOKLET mentions the difficult times in the village under one German officer in charge of the fortifications surrounding the village. The plight of the people was desperate, until heavy allied bombers came over Holland and dropped parcels of food in the neighborhood. Later, after peace came, ships brought supplies of food, the villagers getting their share along with the rest of Holland.

Voorhout is a small village of 4,000 inhabitants in the bulb district and now, with the return of peace and a measure of prosperity to the village, they have not forgotten their friends who helped them during their more unfortunate times.

Inspection Is Held At Sea Cadet Camp

GUEST SPEAKER: Evangelist Christian Hild is guest speaker on Sunday and each evening this week, Monday excepted, at the Pentecostal Tabernacle on 108 street. Mr. Hild, who has crossed America 10 times as a special speaker at conventions and rallies is said to be a forceful gospel preacher. He is a young man with a special message to young people.

The annual inspection of the Royal Canadian Sea Cadet Camp, Kapaswin, was held recently at Kapaswin Beach. Eleven officers and 125 cadets participated. The personnel of the camp consisted of officers and cadets from the following rural parts of Northern Alberta: Wainwright, Camrose, Lac La Biche, Wetaskin and Millet, who arrived aboard Aug. 4 for a two weeks training period.

LT.-CMDR. Rodney Pike, R.C.N. (R), commanding officer of H.M.C.S. Nonsuch inspected the ship's company, and was accompanied by Lt. C. Wilbraham, R.C.S.C., commanding officer of the camp, and Lt. S. Coombs, R.C.N. (R), Sea Cadet Staff Officer. The Edmonton Sea Cadet 50-piece bugle band, under command of Lt. James played several selections during the inspection.

The salute was taken by captain of H.M.S. Nonsuch on the march-past in the following order—color guard, commanded by Sub. Lt. Wilbraham, S.; red watch by Lt. M. Bakken, white watch by Midshipman Pollister, blue watch by Sub. Lt. Kirstein. In charge of all arrangements was Lt. Baker, acting executive officer in the absence of Lt. McCrane.

THIS CEREMONY was witnessed by members of the Sea Cadet committee, Sometime Alderman Wm. Jones, Lt.-Colonel J. Macleod, CO of the R.C.S.C. Camrose who visited camp Kapaswin on the afternoon and many parents and friends of the officers and ratings who offered congratulations to Lt. Wilbraham on the efficiency and orderly dress of the cadets.

The drumhead service was conducted by Padre Grey Rivers, R.C.S.C. Protestant chaplain of the camp, who addressed the ship's company on the three growths of manhood physical, mental and spiritual. The service concluded with the singing of that well known naval hymn "Eternal Father Strong to Save."

SEVERAL BOAT races were scheduled and run off under the capable management of Lt. Elling, boating officer and Padre Father Green.

Pre-sea cutter crews raced to Rimrose received the ducking. The Whaler sailing races were called owing to calms. These events were watched with interest by the visitors aboard naval power boats.

CONCLUDING THE eventful day tea was served the visitors in the messdeck by the genial P.O. Steward and staff.

Dr. Owen Gross, camp medical officer reported only minor casualties in the way of hand blisters.

The annual Sea Cadet regatta was held at Kapaswin Thursday, [illegible]

School Officials' Posts are Changed

Appointed temporary superintendent of Wainwright schools, S. D. Simonson will replace Herbert T. Coutts who has joined the staff of the faculty of education, University of Alberta, it was announced Saturday by the department of education. Also figuring in staff shifts is George H. Lambert, who has been appointed superintendent of the Taber school division, left vacant when D. T. Oviatt joined the administrative staff of the provincial department of education for one year.

Many Applications For Farm Course

Marking the highest prospective enrolment on record, more than 300 students have made applications for the courses opening Oct. 22 at the Vermilion and Olds schools of agriculture, O. S. Longman, deputy-minister of agriculture announced Saturday.

THE HEAVY LIST of applications is creating a problem in accommodation with the present collective maximum capacity of the schools standing at 360. Of this total the Olds school has accommodation for 200 students, so that the greater congestion will be at Vermilion, the deputy said.

As a measure of tackling the problem consideration is being given to extending students' quarters by use of several army huts in the vicinity.

Main problem in fitting the huts for habitation is the current shortage of materials required for sanitation, Mr. Longman said.

The cries which a bat emits to direct it in flight vibrate at 50,000 cycles a second, far above the range of the human ear.

Alberta Sending Stock to Show

Alberta's exhibit at the Royal Stock Show from Nov. 12 to 20 will consist of five or six carloads of purebred beef and dairy type cattle, horses, sheep and swine, it was decided at a meeting Thursday of the Agricultural Livestock Board presided over by Prof. J. P. Sackville, of the department of animal husbandry, University of Alberta.

IT WILL BE THE first shipment of Alberta livestock to the Toronto exhibition since 1938, when such events were mainly discontinued due to wartime priority on the services of railways.

About 12 representatives of breeders' associations attended the meeting which was held in the committee room of the Legislative Buildings.

O. S. Longman, deputy-minister of agriculture, a member of the board, also attended the meeting.

POPULAR CLASSIC

BIRMINGHAM, England, Aug. 17 (CP) — Mendelssohn's Hebrides Overture was the most popular selection when 15,000 Birmingham school children were asked to vote on a town hall concert program. Only two classes mentioned jazz tunes in their choices.

Man Hurt, Horse Killed in Crash

A man was injured and a horse killed in an accident that occurred about 11 p.m. Thursday on 104 avenue between 117 and 118 streets. The injured man was Ernest Boudreau, 109 avenue and 151 street, who was driving a team of horses west on 104 avenue when his team and wagon were struck by a car driven by J. Edgar Stambaugh, Bruce. Stambaugh stated that he was operating his vehicle east on 104 avenue and did not see anything until he struck a team of horses with a wagon load of lumber. Boudreau was taken to the Royal Alexandra hospital and is believed to be suffering from a fractured skull.

BANKING IN ACTION

RETAILERS make constant use of banking services. In some cases these are simple but essential; the bank takes cash receipts on deposit, makes change, operates current accounts, and accepts and records used ration coupons. Other retail accounts involve considerable handling of drafts, and—a very important service—the making of loans to enable retailers to take advantage of trade discounts. All this entails Banking in Action.

The Canadian Bank of Commerce has among its customers many retail houses, from the small corner store to the large chain and department store. Strict attention to their particular needs is given to all the Bank's customers.

Use our services for your banking requirements, whatever they may be. Consult our local Manager.

Abbott Opposes Tax Appeal Board

OTTAWA, (CP) — Acting Finance Minister Abbott said Friday in the commons he believed the senate was a "little out of line" in its amendment to an appeal board bill that gives to her appeals against the discretionary powers exercised by the revenue minister under provisions of the war income tax act.

Mr. Abbott said the government could not consent to give to an independent board powers that lasted on matters of government policy. He was referring to the recommendations of a senate committee which studied ways of improving Canada's tax structure.

The committee recommended an appeal board be established and be empowered to hear appeals against the discretionary powers of the revenue minister. Courts now will not rule on the exercise of the powers if it is shown they were done so in a bona fide manner.

Mr. Abbott spoke before members retired by a verbal vote an amendment by John Diefenbaker, Prog. Con., Lake of the Prairies. Mr. Diefenbaker said that would have authorized the appeal board to deal with questions of discretionary powers of the minister were involved.

It was learned some senators plan to offer another amendment when the bill reaches Local passage or preparation expected in the house to-day.

to come to the end of last week.

Mr. Diefenbaker said during the discretionary power given the minister and not affect government."

Meanwhile premier has tackled the job of reducing living costs.

AFTER ONE YEAR OF PEACE BERLIN IS STILL IN RUBBLE

PROTESTANT CHURCH LEADERS MAP PEACE PROGRAM IN ENGLAND

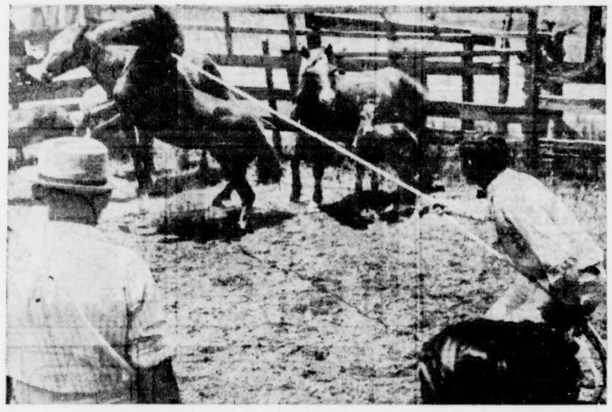
Copyright, 1946, by Acme Newspictures, Inc.

BOY SCOUT LEADER—Count Folke Bernadotte, war-time head of Swedish Red Cross, sits on his "throne" as director of Boy Scout Camp at the island of Gransoe in the Swedish Archipelago. Ten thousand scouts from 12 nations gathered here.

BERLIN STRUGGLES OUT FROM UNDER—More than one year after the war's end, Berlin, capital of a once proud nation, is still a city of destruction. Working slowly and with makeshift equipment, Berliners nevertheless carry on their tasks of reconstruction. Freeing old bricks of mortar, upper left, women pile them in neat stacks for future use. Due to the shortage of construction materials they will have to be used in new buildings. Bricks are removed from shattered buildings, upper right, by women who form long chains. Vehicles are impossible to get, but the iron car, lower right, is utilized on a feeble track for longer hauls. With the city in nearly complete ruin the task of rebuilding seems almost hopeless. The once great metropolis is still hunger-ridden. To get away from it all Berliners take to the beaches, lower left. Here, too, the defeat of war is felt for part of the beach is reserved for Allied occupation forces and is often nearly empty. These few GIs look at the crowds in the German section.

CHURCH LEADERS—John Foster Dulles, right, of New York, outstanding GOP spokesman on foreign affairs, talks with one of the delegates at the International Conference of Church Leaders at Girton College, Cambridge, England, about a program of peace action for Protestant churches.

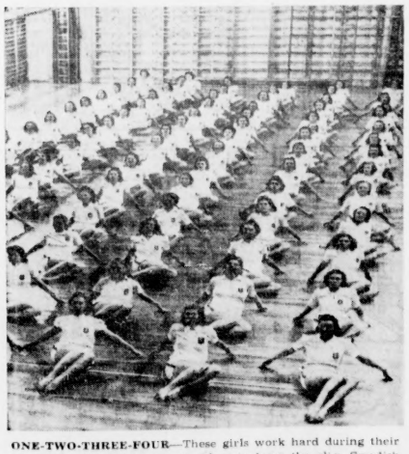
ANNIE'S GOT HER GUN—Ethel Merman, who stars as Annie Oakley in the New York hit musical, "Annie Get Your Gun," shows Ray Middleton the gold and silver mounted Winchester used by the famous sharpshooter during her 1887 European tour. Miss Merman fired the rifle at 100th performance.



WHEN IT'S ROUND-UP TIME IN NORTH CAROLINA the summer resort of Cape Lookout, N. C., takes on the appearance of the horse and cattle lands of the west. In the annual round-up of wild ponies this one refused to be quieted after being lassoed. Banker ponies sometimes are bought and trained as riders.

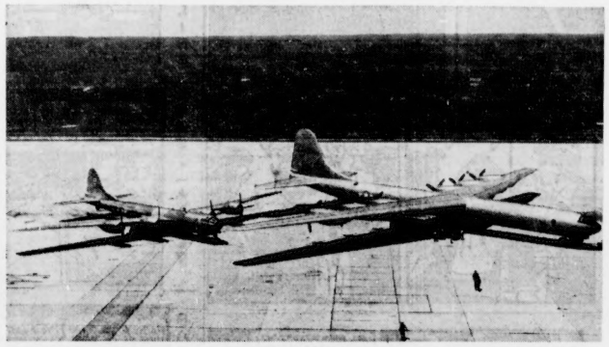
LOSER—Having lost the nomination for Senator to Theodore "The Man" Bilbo in Mississippi, Frank Harper, 74, became an elevator operator in Washington.

"I'LL TAKE THIS ONE, PLEASE"—In Hollywood, Calif., Nancy Gates, NBC radio star, finds herself in the middle of the latest hat creations of the film capital's designers. They are to be featured in the fall showing.



ONE-TWO-THREE-FOUR—These girls work hard during their lunch hour in Stockholm, Sweden, to keep the slim Swedish figures made famous by Ingrid Bergman and Greta Garbo.

JINX BECOMES MOTHER—Jinx Falkenberg, former cover girl and film star, holds her six-pound, 14-ounce son, Patrick McCrary. The new mother is the wife of "Tex" McCrary, radio producer.



IT DWARFS THE B-29—Making the B-29 Superfortress look like a toy bomber is this XB-36, world's largest land-based aircraft at the Consolidated Vultee Aircraft Corp., at Ft. Worth, Tex. In a 38-minute test hop the sleek six-motored craft proved air worthy. Its cruising range more than doubles that of the Superfortress. The B-29 during the war was thought to be the ultimate in bombers and was used to drop the atomic bombs.

TIME OUT FROM CLOWNING—These youngsters are learning their daily lessons right under the "Big Top" of the Ringling Bros.-Barnum and Bailey Circus from clown Harry Donn, graduate of the University of St. Louis.

Why Grow Old?

If you want charm and beauty — and who doesn't? — relax and exercise to rid yourself of tenseness. You may come up looking like Actress Patricia White, above.

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

TENSENESS, WHEN translated into nervousness, fatigue and irritability, has broken up more homes, caused more wrong decisions, put more lines in feminine faces, lost more friends, turned more hair gray and caused more general grief than almost any other factor in human happiness.

It is practically impossible to remain balanced emotionally when you feel as though every nerve end is getting a permanent wave! This tense feeling affects personality and charm and mental reactions as well. The very essense of charm is poise, graciousness, ease, relaxation, tolerance, and unhurried humor. Hurrying, fretting, pushing, stewing, going at life with a "hammer and tong" attitude are often the results of tenseness and nervous exhaustion and also can cause them.

I BELIEVE THAT women, especially, are subject to tenseness. This is true because we have so many varied demands on us. The woman who runs a home and takes care of her children, who copes with the butcher, the bakery, the grocery, the laundry, the dry cleaner, and so forth, ad infinitum, is never through with responsibility and is subjected to constant, petty irritations and difficulties, few of which are stimulating or interesting. Of course, during war years this has been especially true.

Any woman who drops tenseness from her dress adds pounds of charm and personality and years to her life. Tenseness is a killing condition and it ruins enjoyment in living. It is sad that so many women spend most of their precious energy on nonessentials and then have none left for the poetry, inspiration, and humor, in living.

PHYSICAL EXERCISE is powerful antidote for nervous tension. Although tenseness may cause you to feel tired, your fatigue is not physical. If you are tense, try exercise because it can accomplish miracles in making you feel relaxed and rested.

Deep breathing exercises are especially effective. Stand erect with your feet comfortably apart. Raise your arms sideways, upward as you lift your heels and raise high on your toes. At the same time breath in deeply. Lower arms and heels to the floor and exhale at the same time. Continue this, being certain to fill lungs and stretch upward until you feel your muscles pull.

IF YOU WISH to have my exercises for relaxing send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 24 "Exercises for Relaxing" to Josephine Lowman in care of The Edmonton Bulletin.

Dorothy Dix Says:

Dear Miss Dix: I have a very good-looking husband who has a roving eye for the opposite sex, and I would like to ask you if I am doing right when I literally throw girls at his head. When he particularly admires one, I have her at the house morning, noon and night, and after a few weeks he is so disgusted he tells me not to have her any more. It goes on like this first with one and then with another, but there is nothing serious about it. My husband and I never quarrel over his flirtations. What do you think of my method?

M.H.

Answer: You are wise in giving your husband an overdose of your rivals instead of trying to keep him away from them. Forbidden fruit is sweet and forbidden women alluring. The chief attraction that the Other Woman has is that a husband sees her at a distance, instead of at close range as he does his wife. Let him live under the same roof with her and see how she looks at breakfast when she isn't dolled up. Let him have to listen to hours of her conversation. Let him find out her peculiarities of temper and temperament, and he finds out that she isn't so charming as the wife he has.

Dear Miss Dix: I have just been discharged from the Navy and am now living with my parents on a small farm. I do not like farming, but my parents demand that I stay with them. I know I could never make a success of farming, hating it as I do. I have two brothers who live on the farm, and like it.

I have an opportunity to go to college, which I want to do more than anything else in the world. What shall I do? Must I stay on the farm with my parents, or would you advise me to go on to college?

UNHAPPY

Answer: I urge you by all means not to sacrifice your life to your parents' whim, but to strike out for yourself. If they want to live on the farm, let them stay there. Old people are not halt so helpless as young ones think they are. Then, too, they have your two brothers with them to help on the farm and your help will not be too greatly missed.

Dear Miss Dix: My family objects to the young man with whom I am in love. They say he is too old for me and they will not permit him to come to the house, so the only way I can see him is to go to his hotel apartment. Under the circumstances, do you think this is wrong?

AGNES T.T.

Answer: Why, my dear child, it is suicidal. It is something that a decent girl doesn't do and, no matter how innocent you are nor with what respect a man treats you, scandal would tear your reputation to tatters if it were known.

Come to Dinner - - Bring Your Bread

LONDON, Aug. 17—(CP)—This discreet notice to patrons appears in a popular Soho restaurant: "In view of the new rationing orders, customers wishing to have bread with their meal are advised to bring their own with them. Otherwise we shall be obliged to cut out one course if we supply bread ourselves." Regulations provide that a meal may not exceed three courses—soup, fish or meat and sweet. If bread is served, another course must be foregone.

General Duty Nurse

By LUCY AGNES HANCOCK

Copyright by Lucy Agnes Hancock Distributed by NEA SERVICE, INC.

THE STORY: One stormy night two mysterious strangers bring a badly injured boy into Receiving while Sally is on duty. They refuse to leave without examination but Dr. Willoughby, the interne, after the suspicious characters had been ejected, examines the boy. Just as Sally is left alone in the darkened Receiving room, a shot rings out. Then a strange man enters, tells Sally to remain quiet for a while if she wishes to avoid unpleasant complications, and disappears. The lights go on again but there is no trace of him.

IX

SALLY closed the door and returned to the others.

"I don't suppose we shall ever find out," she said regretfully. "I hate practical jokes—if that's what it was; but what else could it have been? He must have been terribly wet." She fled to the corridor and examined the floor. Fresh footmarks were clearly shown mounting the stairs to the foyer and on to the front door which was not locked. That, in itself, was odd. That front door was never locked. She turned to the others who had followed. "There! See the footprints? He came in this door—probably just before the lights went out."

"We might both have been murdered!" Margaret breathed, shuddering with dread.

"Now who on earth would want to murder you, Maggie?" Doctor Hallock demanded. "Don't get morbid ideas. Just the same, though, I intend doing a bit of investigating when it gets light. This whole affair is most unusual—in a town like Lintonville, especially."

He opened the front door and looked out. Nothing was to be seen. Wind, cold and wet, roared into the vestibule and he hastily shut it again, turned the key in the lock and led the way back into Receiving where he proceeded to lock that door also.

"Now in case of fire I should be held for murder—certainly for negligence," he told them.

"How about the boy?" Sally asked. "Is he going to be all right?"

"I imagine so," the doctor said. "He'll still unconscious and will probably remain so for some time. A bad concussion. Otherwise he should come along all right. He will probably be lame for some time though. His foot and ankle were pretty badly smashed. Looks to me like the work of a hit and run driver—unless, of course, the thugs who brought him in are the culprits. One doesn't think so. He figures they're the tools—of a gang, perhaps. Just what gang he wasn't prepared to say—yet. Fine looking lad. Nice features—good hands."

"I hope they get the beasts who are responsible," Sally said fiercely. "I wonder if there's any connection between—"

"NOT a chance," the young interne grinned, his eyes jeering. "You and Doc should get together on this, Maynard. Between you, you could write a really blood-congealing scenario. Maybe make a million. Who knows?"

Sally stiffened and Margaret Adams said stanchly: "I don't think it's so ridiculous. Maybe this stranger was the perpetrator of the foul deed—a guilty conscience and all that. Had to follow up and see how it ended. Could be, you know —only there's the shot. How does that come into the picture?"

"You tell me," Doctor Hallock said, shaking his head dubiously. "We'll have a look around in the morning. You said it was quite near?"

"Right outside—so close it sounded as if it might even have been fired at the porch. Probably he was standing there and—"

"Just the same—" Sally began, but the resident entered and she said nothing more.

"Why not take Doc into your confidence, girls?" the interne suggested. "He might even have the solution already worked out."

It was Margaret Adams who told the story and while she was talking Doctor Willoughby's brow wrinkled in deep thought. His clear blue eyes stared at her for a long moment before he said firmly: "No doubt it ties up with this other."

Sally threw a triumphant glance at the younger doctor who grinned and winked at her in reply. She bit her lip and blushed furiously.

"WOULD you know the voice again?" the resident asked, his face wandering from one to the other.

Margaret shook her head. "I was too scared," she confessed.

"I think I should, Doctor," Sally said. "It was the voice of breeding—at least of an educated man—quite different from either of those two with the boy." She knew Doctor Hallock's amused eyes were on her and went on: "It puzzles me that he knew where the door of Receiving was located and that the door was locked. You see it was absolutely dark in here. The lights were out."

"Oh, there are people who can see quite well in the dark, Maynard," the resident explained, thus quashing her theory of a practical joke by a hospital employee. "Of course he may have been lurking around the grounds for some time before the lights went out."

"A fine night to lurk," Doctor Hallock said and for some reason Sally felt better.

"We'll get the police in on the case and without doubt it will be straightened out in a matter of hours," Doctor Willoughby said with conviction.

And now morning came on apace—a gray wet dawn—and at seven o'clock Sally and Margaret welcomed their relief. At breakfast neither mentioned their experience of the night before and after the meal they went up to their rooms in the Annex and to bed.

AMERICA'S CARD AUTHORITY

Part scores play an important part in tournament bridge. Generally if you bid two of a suit and make exactly two, and have not lost any tricks, you are bound to get a good score.

Therefore when defending against a part score contract, you have to be really on your toes. Against a game or slam, the number of tricks you can win is limited, but against a part score every move must be planned. Today's hand is a good example of keen defence against a part score.

The opening diamond lead was won by South with the king and a club was led. Declarer, figuring that eventually he would have to take the club finesse, put on the jack. North refused to cover.

Now declarer elected to lead the eight of hearts, and when North did not cover, he played the deuce from the dummy.South won was danger that declarer might with the ace. He realized there discard his diamond on dummy's good heart; nevertheless, he thought that declarer would be almost certain to make the mistake of taking another club finesse.

So out came the club and sure enough. West put on the Queen. North won and returned a club, which South ruffed. Now South led a low diamond. Don't forget that north had supported diamonds and had led fourth best. North won with the queen and led the fourth club. Dummy trumped with the seven-spot but South overtrumped with the nine thus defeating what should have been an easy contract.

Declarer of course had several opportunities to make this hand. He should not have taken the second club finesse , and he should have trumped the fourth club with the queen of spades, but such things happen on part score hands. They are important, but too often they are played carelessly.

Plan Convert Kleskun Hills Into Natural Park, Museum

GRANDE PRAIRIE.—The Kleskun Hills, strange mound-shaped elevations in rolling farm terrain 15 miles from here that have become increasingly prominent as a repository of petrified dinosaur and other fossil remains, will be converted shortly into parkland.

Plans to have the hills turned into a park were discussed by many interested residents and others at a picnic held recently. The sponsors feel that creation of a park and museum in the hills would be a leading attraction for tourist trade to the district.

To Make Transfers

To obtain the land for the project a few farmers will be asked to exchange some of their acres in the hills, stated worthless for farming, for others held by the municipality. Other parts of the hills are crown land leased for grazing. No difficulty is expected in making the transfer.

More than 600 persons attended the picnic held under the sponsorship of the municipal district of Grande Prairie. The fossil remains have withstood the ravages of an estimated 300,000,000 years and it is to preserve this pre-historic past that interested persons here wish to convert the land into a park.

Early settlers dug into the hills for the clay which they found made good chinking between the logs of their houses and barns. They would have done much better to dig the grey chalky substance which lay on the ground looking like the dried-up beds of old streams. Not only was it the nearest thing to cement to be found in its natural state, (being bentonite, gypsum and rock flour), but they would not needlessly have destroyed priceless remains of prehistoric life buried there.

Fascinated by Hills

One of the earliest settlers in that district was Robert Cochrane who answered the call of the Peace River frontier from his Ontario carpenter shop in 1910. Today his fine farm, seven miles from town, is one of the showplaces of the district. He was an early and successful grower of registered seed and won many championships, among them the title of timothy king of the British Empire.

The strange looking Kleskun hills fascinated him. He began to collect odd rocks, bits of petrified wood, relics of marine life and bone fragments. He began to ask questions and to study geology. Dr. L. J. O'Brien, Grande Prairie, also was keenly interested in the geological history of the district. Some of the specimens found by the two "Kleskun Hill Billies" as they were affectionately called, were sent to Dr. J. A. Allan, professor of geology at the University of Alberta. He too became interested and made several visits to the area, giving Mr. Cochrane much helpful information.

There is one hill from which the whole valley spreads out like a gigantic carpet to the deep blue foothills over 80 miles away.

Speakers at the Kleskun Hill picnic, all of whom praised the work of Mr. Cochrane in bringing the value of the spot to the notice of the public, were Mayor J. E. Thomson, W. J. Fleming, president of the Early settler of the Grande Prairie district, Robert Cochrane, who has done much work to bring the strange Kleshun Hills to the attention of hundreds of people. It was through Mr. Cochrane's keen interest that action was started to make the hills a permanent park and tourist attraction. Mr. Cochrane is shown sitting on the Dinosaur Hill rock which was unveiled at the picnic.

To Form Company At Pouce Coupe

POUCE COUPE.— Preparations for the formation of a company here of Royal Canadian Engineers were discussed at a recent meeting attended by Col. T. E. Snow, O.B.E., officer commanding M.D. No. 13.

Col Snow stated that it was his own personal opinion that this part of Canada was one of the most vulnerable for an attack by an enemy.

Further meeting of representatives will be held in a few days to elect a chairman, vice-chairman and secretary.

In the evening Col. Snow formally opened the Dawson Creek swimming pool built by the Elks and the Gyro clubs at a cost of $18,000.

Farm Machinery Field Day Held

VERMILION.—Sixty district farmers gathered recently at the Vermilion School of Agriculture for a harvest machinery field day. Meetings were held in the well equipped farm mechanics building which was formerly the drill hall of the C.W.A.C. training centre.

Speakers were M. Mackenzie of the school of technology and art staff of Calgary and F. Parkinson, mechanics instructor at the Olds school.

Machinery was supplied by the Waterloo Threshers Ltd., the Cockshutt Plow Co., and the J. I. Case, Co.

Demonstrations on the operation and adjustment of combines, threshers and binders is a new program inaugurated for the benefit of machinery operators.

Arrangements for the meeting were carried out by E. H. Buckingham, Vermilion district agriculturist.

Grande Prairie Board of Trade; Ira McLaughlin, M.L.A.; J. McIntosh, president of the Canadian Legion, G.P.; E. C. Stacey, Beaverlodge experimental station; Jean Lemon, reeve of the municipality; Rev. J. Spicer, Mrs. D. W. Patterson, president and district director of the W.I.; J. T. Stranaka, district agriculturist and councillors E. J. Helton, J. Smith and B. Garrett.

J. B. Yule, editor of the Grande Prairie Herald-Tribune, who unveiled the stone erected by Mr. Cochrane on Dinosaur Hill, suggested that a museum be built in the park to house the specimens which Mr. Cochrane had collected.

CAMROSE.— J. D. Hannan, pioneery businessman of Camrose has retired as the Imperial Oil agent here and a successor, W. E. Wilson has been appointed. Mr. Wilson hails from Saskatoon where he had been engaged in the servicing of farm trade for the Imperial Oil for the past 20 years.

With his retirement from the Imperial Oil agency, Mr. Hannan has severed his business connections with the town of Camrose. Quite recently he sold the Arlington Hotel. He was widely known and one of the town's most familiar figures. His hearty good nature made him friends with one and all.

A. J. Froehler is the new proprietor of the Camrose auto body and paint shop. Mr. Froehler is a former flying officer and was with the R.C.A.F. operational wing. Among his service badges are the C.V.S.M. and clasp, the Atlantic and the Pacific star. His parents live at Strome where they farm.

Camrose College Names Officials

CAMROSE.—Several new appointments have been made to the staff of the Camrose Lutheran College, the appointments including Luther Olson as business manager, teaching social studies and Mrs. Velma Gooch, preceptress.

Teaching staff will be made up as follows: principal, George Moi, languages and administration; E. P. Marken, science and choir director; Mrs. G. E. Hoyme, mathematics; pastor, the Rev. A. Vinge.

Indications are that the school will not be able to handle all pupils who would like to attend this year's classes.

CROPS DAMAGED

RED DEER.—Serious damage to crops is reported following storms that struck at Markerville to west of Sylvan Lake. Crops are reported flattened by heavy rain and wind.

Reunion Outcome Of Holiday Visit

VERMILION.—A grand reunion of old friends took place recently at the High River home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Laverty, former residents of Vermilion. Three car loads of Vermilion people on holidays drove up to the Laverty home within 15 minutes of each other.

The visitors were on their homeward journey after spending vacations at various points and none knew of the other's presence in the district.

Visitors included Mr. and Mrs. Alan Rowe, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Watts and Audrey, Mr. and Mrs. John Maxwell and Leona and Mr. and Mrs. James Robson and daughter Jean.

Report Liberals Wooed Coldwell

OTTAWA, (CP)—The Evening Journal said in a newspage story it had learned an "unofficial offer" to M. J. Coldwell, C.C.F. leader, to accept the Liberal party leadership was made by the National Liberal Federation after Prime Minister King's defeat in Prince Albert in last year's general election.

Commenting on the Liberal report, Mr. Coldwell said: "I have said all I intend about it. What I said was on Hansard and I wasn't the one to raise the subject."

In an exchange in the commons with Agriculture Minister Gardiner, Mr. Coldwell said he never had been "officially asked" to accept the Liberal leadership and he would have been "the last one to raise" the matter in the house.

Asked to differentiate between "unofficial" and "official" offers of the leadership, Mr. Coldwell said it would be "unofficial" if it came from "persons in the Liberal party outside of the house of commons."

He said he wished to make it clear that the offer had not come "from within the cabinet."

Don't Need Permit Export Some Fruit

OTTAWA. (CP)—The trade department announced Friday that, effective immediately, export permits will no longer be necessary for certain fruits and vegetables consigned to any part of the British Commonwealth, Iceland and the islands of St. Pierre-Miquelon.

The fresh fruits are apples, peaches, pears and plums, berries, cherries, grapes and certain other fresh fruit. The vegetables are beets and cabbages, and—in their natural state—carrots, onions, table potatoes, parsnips and tomatoes.

Also announced was the system of "special permits" which would reduce "to a minimum" controls over apple exports to markets other than those in the British Commonwealth, Iceland and St. Pierre-Miquelon.

Any exporter may arrange through specified permit holders to ship and produce under the special permit system.

WIN BALL CROWN

STROME.— Spring Lake captured the Big Six Baseball league championship recently by defeating Strome, 12-9 in an extra inning game. It was an interesting tussel throughout and ended at regulation time in a 9-9 tie.

NEW LEGION MEMBERS

LLOYDMINSTER.— Eleven new applications for membership in the Lloydminster branch of the Canadian Legion were accepted at the regular monthly meeting of the organization.

WHO... IS CANADA'S No. 1 CITIZEN?

IT IS YOU... OR SHOULD BE.

If you are a No. 1 citizen, you will be doing your share to ward off the menace of inflation* facing Canada today.

How? ... By conservation in your personal finances ...

Here are five ways you can fight inflation:

- Hold on to your Victory Bonds
- Buy only those goods which are in fair supply and save your money for the day when goods now in short supply will be readily available
- Avoid black market purchases
- Keep up your insurance
- Build up your savings account

This is conservation — the first requisite for personal security — the first attribute of good citizenship.

If we all help in all five ways, the threat of inflation—rampant in some other countries and now menacing us — can be beaten and stamped out.

• • •

Let us all be No. 1 citizens. Remember: if you are a No. 1 citizen, you will look after No. 1 . . . Save for yourself and you save for Canada.

* Inflation, to the citizen, means simply less and less value for his dollar . . . his living costs soar as free and careless spending drives up the price of goods still in short supply. Inflation is no respecter of persons . . . like the rain, its evil falls on the just and the unjust alike. Thus, Canada's fight against the menace of inflation is your fight . . . the fight of each of our citizens — 12,000,000 strong.
